Allan Edwards, David Hassan

Active Social Capital:

Active Social Capital Anirudh Krishna, 2002 The idea of social capital allows scholars to assess the quality of relationships among people within a particular community and show how that quality affects the ability to achieve shared goals With evidence collected from sixty nine villages in India Krishna investigates what social capital is how it operates in practice and what results it can be expected to produce Does social capital provide a viable means for advancing economic development promoting ethnic peace and strengthening democratic governance The world is richer than ever before but more than a fifth of its people are poor and miserable Civil wars and ethnic strife continue to mar prospects for peace Democracy is in place in most countries but large numbers of citizens do not benefit from it How can development peace and democracy become more fruitful for the ordinary citizen This book shows how social capital is a crucial dimension of any solution to these problems

Sport and the Communities Allan Edwards, David Hassan, 2016-01-08 Over the past three decades there has been widespread commitment to an understanding that sport can play a key role in community development The role of sport within communities has been promoted with a wide range of goals such as environmental considerations encouragement of civic pride enhancement of confidence and self esteem and development of social cohesion as well as the fostering of a fit and healthy workforce To address these issues a number of programmes have been funded and supported to develop the role of sport in communities worldwide and to increase participation and access to sport and physical activities in rural areas In addition we are witnessing the development of new sports communities through social media such as Facebook and My Space The concern is that we need to revisit the concept of community and sport and to investigate the current understanding of these terms in view of the evolving role of sport in a range of national settings This book will present the platform upon which this process can be undertaken and offers a fundamental re evaluation of the relationship that currently exists between sport and communities throughout selected parts of the world This book was previously published as a special issue of Sport in Society

The China Lens A Political-Economic Analysis of Changing China Shiwei Jiang, 2013-01-28 This book grew out of a series of my doctoral essays and discussion with Fulbright scholar Mr Tasawar Baig and Professor David Earnest at Old Dominion University Some ideas and thoughts were also inspired by Professor Robert Putnam at the Harvard University John F Kennedy School of Government and Professor Zbigniew Kazimierz Brzezinski former US National Security Advisor when they did lectures and special discussion with me at Old Dominion University in 2009 and 2012 respectively In The Third Wave 1991 Samuel Huntington explains various sociopolitical factors caused radical political changes in developing countries His analysis shows that for Africa the main obstacle for building democracy is economy While for East Asia and the Middle East the major obstacle are culture and religion Huntington's analysis oversimplified the driving factors of democratization in specific case such as China a hybrid of Capitalist economy and communist politics This paper measures the current democratization of Chinese politics from three perspectives social capital rapid economic development and radical social movement Thus the grand question is whether these factors can lead to a regime change in China The author draws a conclusion that the radical political change is possible but not desirable in Chinese politics In the eyes of rising Chinese middle Class a Singaporean political transformation or South Korean democratization is more favored than radical democratization Following the US Presidential election China went through a one week meeting of the 18th National Congress starting on November 8 2012 Without much surprise Xi replaced Hu becoming the core of Chinese communist power The power transition seems to be smooth in Chinese media coverage However anecdotes rumors unofficial reports and foreign news exposed the political battle behind the stage President Xi is now facing a stark different situation compared to Hu Today China is the world's second largest economy At the same time China is experiencing rising mass disturbance every year As a non democracy leaders past experience network and personality can greatly influence state policies With more people getting rich and educated the mass claim the mismatch between Chinese politics and economy Other than changing domestic Chinese politics China has drawn much attention internationally China's presence in Africa and the Middle East tightens the nerves of U S policy makers Is China a peaceful or benign riser Where is China heading toward What interests are Chinese companies pursuing and what strategies are they using globally The book investigates these questions in different chapters Globalization is the current trend As a propeller China's participation in global trade greatly shapes world order In return global trade also produced effects on China's domestic labor market particularly on the traditional Chinese women labors This book is a sound recipe integrating both faces of China domestically and internationally The Third Sector in Europe Stephen P. Osborne, 2008-03-04 Edited by a leading light in the field this book presents contemporary research into the voluntary sector in Europe exploring its contribution to European society as well as the key challenges it faces drawing from both economics and sociology

Faith-based Radicalism Christiane Timmerman, 2007 Terror attacks against Western symbols of power suicide terrorism in Chechnya or bombing of abortion clinics in the United States these are a few of the violent religious outbursts that the media never seem to stop broadcasting While these outbursts are mostly linked to Islamic extremism it should however be acknowledged that every religion has its own violent side Despite all the events the media are too prompt to show us it would be dishonest and insensible not to accept that every religion has also a potential for religious peace building and communal renewal How can it be explained then that religions sometimes react violently against the society surrounding them by trying to overthrow it while at some other times they willingly help and try to build a better world for everyone The University Centre Saint Ignatius Antwerp organised an interdisciplinary summer seminar in September 2005 and gathered senior scholars all experts in their own fields and junior scholars who will be the experts of tomorrow from all over the world to discuss these burning issues The seminar focused on miscellaneous topics all pointing towards the question of religion and society like literalism and the Holy texts the ambivalence of faith based radicalism the psychology of religion and terrorism nationalism and religion and religious social movements Publisher Credit to Capabilities Paromita Sanyal, 2014-12-11 This book focuses on how group based microcredit programs in India facilitate women's empowerment through the mechanism of group participation and networking Routledge Handbook of Democratization Jeffrey Haynes, 2012-03-15 This exciting new handbook provides a global overview of the process of democratization offering chapter by chapter discussion at both the country and regional levels and examining the interaction between the domestic and external factors that affect the progression of countries from authoritarian to democratic rule Bringing together 29 key experts in the field the work is designed to contrast the processes and outcomes of democratic reform in a wide range of different societies evaluating the influence of factors such as religion economic development and financial resources It is structured thematically into four broad sections Section I provides a regional tour d'horizon of the current state of democratisation and democracy in eight regions around the world Section II examines key structures processes and outcomes of democratisation and democracy Section III focuses on the relationship between democratisation and international relations through examination of a range of issues and actors including the third and fourth waves of democracy political conditionality the United Nations the European Union the African Union and the Organisation of African States Section IV Examines the interaction between democratisation and development with a focus on poverty and inequality security human rights gender war and conflict resolution A comprehensive survey of democratization across the world this work will be essential reading for scholars and policy makers alike

Knowledge Economies Philip Cooke, 2002-09-10 This book traces the theoretical explanation for clusters back to the work of classical economists and their more modern disciples who saw economic development as a process involving serious imbalances in the exploitation of resources Initially natural resource endowments explained the formation of nineteenth and early twentieth century industrial districts Today geographical concentrations of scientific and creative knowledge are the key resource But these require a support system ranging from major injections of basic research funding to varieties of financial investment and management to the provision of specialist incubators for economic value to be realised These are also specialised forms of knowledge that contribute to a serious imbalance in the distribution of economic opportunity
