Asian Cities Migrant Labor And Contested Spaces Routledge Contemporary Asia:

Asian Cities, Migrant Labor and Contested Spaces Tai-Chee Wong, Jonathan Rigg, 2010-09-13 This volume explores how migration is playing a central role in the renewing and reworking of urban spaces in the fast growing and rapidly changing cities of Asia Migration trends in Asia entered a new phase in the 1990s following the end of the Cold War which marked the advent of a renewed phase of globalization Cities have become centrally implicated in globalization processes and therefore have become objects and sites of intense study The contributors to this book reflect on the impact and significance of migration with a particular focus on the contested spaces that are emerging in urban contexts and the economic social religious and cultural domains with which they intersect They also examines the roles and effects of different forms of migration in the cauldron of urban change from low skilled domestic migrants who maintain a close engagement with their rural homes to highly skilled professional transnational migrants to legal and illegal international migrants who arrive with the hope of transforming their livelihoods Providing a mosaic of insights into the links between migration marginalization and contestation in Asia s urban contexts Asian Cities Migrant Labor and Contested Spaces will be of interest to students and scholars of Asian studies migration studies urban studies and human geography

Asian Cities, Migrant Labor and Contested Spaces Tai-Chee Wong, Jonathan Rigg, 2010-09-13 This book explores how migration plays a central role in the renewing and reworking of urban spaces in the rapidly changing cities of Asia The contributors examine the roles and effects of different forms of migration in the arena of urban change considering low skilled domestic migrants professional transnational migrant and legal and illegal international migrants

Cleavage, Connection and Conflict in Rural, Urban and Contemporary Asia Tim Bunnell, D. Parthasarathy, Eric C. Thompson, 2012-12-11 Asia the location of the world s fastest growing economies is also home to some of the fastest rates of urbanization humanity has ever seen a process whose speed renders long term outcomes highly unpredictable This volume contrasts with much published work on the rural urban divide which has tended to focus on single case studies It provides empirical perspectives from four Asian countries India Indonesia Malaysia and Thailand and includes a wealth of insights that both critique and expand popular notions of the rural urban divide The volume is relevant not just to Asian contexts but to social scientific research on population dynamics more generally Rather than deploying a single study to chart national trends three chapters on each country make possible much more complex perspectives As a result this volume does more than extend our understanding of the interplay between cities and hinterlands within Asia It enhances our notions of rural urban cleavages connections and conflicts more generally with data and analysis ready for application to other contexts Of interest to diverse scholars across the social sciences and Asian studies this work includes accounts ranging from rural youth real estate entrepreneurs in Hyderabad India to social development in Aceh province in Indonesia devastated by the 2004 tsunami to the relationship between urban space and commonly held notions of the supernatural in Thailand s northern city of Chiang Mai
