Yudkoff,2018-12-25 At the turn of the twentieth century tuberculosis was a leading cause of death across America Europe and the Russian Empire The incurable disease gave rise to a culture of convalescence creating new opportunities for travel and literary reflection Tubercular Capital tells the story of Yiddish and Hebrew writers whose lives and work were transformed by a tubercular diagnosis Moving from eastern Europe to the Italian Peninsula and from Mandate Palestine to the Rocky Mountains Sunny S Yudkoff follows writers including Sholem Aleichem Ra el Bluvstein David Vogel and others as they sought the cure and drew on their experiences of illness to hone their literary craft Combining archival research with literary analysis Yudkoff uncovers how tuberculosis came to function as an agent of modern Jewish literature The illness would provide the means for these suffering writers to grow their reputations and find financial backing It served a central role in the public fashioning of their literary personas and ushered Jewish writers into a variety of intersecting English German and Russian literary traditions Tracing the paths of these writers Tubercular Capital reconsiders the foundational relationship between disease biography and literature
