Writing Wild Kathryn Aalto, 2020-06-23 Re-centers and gives voice to a diversity of women naturalists and writers across time Cultivating Place In Writing Wild Kathryn Aalto celebrates 25 women whose influential writing helps deepen our connection to and understanding of the natural world These inspiring wordsmiths are scholars spiritual seekers conservationists scientists novelists and explorers They defy easy categorization yet they all share a bold authenticity that makes their work both distinct and universal Part travel essay literary biography and cultural history Writing Wild ventures into the landscapes and lives of extraordinary writers and encourages a new generation of women to pick up their pens head outdoors and start writing wild

The Goldilocks God Guy Collins, 2022-08-22 The Goldilocks God Searching for the via media explores the fertile middle ground between toxic Christianity and militant atheism Can Christianity be intellectually credible Why do our past failures and breakages offer comfort and hope How does the via media of Anglicanism offer tactics for dealing with contemporary challenges and uncertainties Whether exploring mystic Hildegard von Bingen strategic thinker Queen Elizabeth or theologians Jean Luc Marion and Sarah Coakley readers venture into a Trinitarian Goldilocks zone of faith hope and love Guy Collins makes a creative and heartfelt case for a spiritual thermodynamics of trial and error promise and glory Illuminating ancient Christian practice with cutting edge philosophy and theology he reveals the lifelong habits that are just right for encountering the mystery of God

Upstream Mary Oliver, 2019-10-29 One of O The Oprah Magazine's Ten Best Books of the Year The New York Times bestselling collection of essays from beloved poet Mary Oliver There's hardly a page in my copy of Upstream that isn't folded down or underlined and scribbled on so charged is Oliver's language Maureen Corrigan NPR's Fresh Air Uniting essays from Oliver's previous books and elsewhere this gem of a collection offers a compelling synthesis of the poet's thoughts on the natural spiritual and artistic worlds The New York Times In the beginning I was so young and such a stranger to myself I hardly existed I had to go out into the world and see it and hear it and react to it before I knew at all who I was what I was what I wanted to be So begins Upstream a collection of essays in which revered poet Mary Oliver reflects on her willingness as a young child and as an adult to lose herself within the beauty and mysteries of both the natural world and the world of literature Emphasizing the significance of her childhood friend Walt Whitman through whose work she first understood that a poem is a temple a place to enter and in which to feel and who encouraged her to vanish into the world of her writing Oliver meditates on the forces that allowed her to create a life for herself out of work and love As she writes I could not be a poet without the natural world Someone else could But not me For me the door to the woods is the door to the temple Upstream follows Oliver as she contemplates the pleasure of artistic labor her boundless curiosity for the flora and fauna that surround her and the responsibility she has inherited from Shelley Wordsworth Emerson Poe and Frost the great thinkers and writers of the past to live thoughtfully intelligently and to observe with passion Throughout this collection Oliver positions not just herself upstream but us as well as she encourages us all to keep moving to lose ourselves in the awe of the unknown and to give power and time to the creative and whimsical urges that live within us

Grand Canyon, 2006 Ann Zwinger plumbs the very soul of this majestic place exploring the deserts along the Colorado's banks in order to examine things that often go unnoticed against a backdrop of overwhelming grandeur Whether drawing our attention to a newly unfurled evening primrose a ladybug at work on a leaf full of aphids or the amazing appearance of a humpback chub slipping through the water like a pewter ghost she opens a new window on the Canyon at river level to show us that small things of overpowering beauty can be found in a place whose intrinsic splendor is nothing less than staggering

The Intersubjective Turn Olen Gunnlaugson, Charles Scott, Heesoon Bai, Edward W. Sarath, 2017-10-11 Examines key theoretical aspects of the emerging field of second person contemplative education A first of its kind this book maps out current academic approaches in higher education to second person contemplative education which addresses contemplative experience from an intersubjective perspective Until recently contemplative studies has emphasized a predominantly first person standpoint but the expansion and embrace of second person methods provides a distinctive learning context in which collective wisdom and shared learning can begin to emerge from dialogue among students and groups in the classroom The contributors to this volume leading researchers and practitioners from a variety of institutions and departments examine the theoretical and philosophical foundations of second person contemplative approaches to instruction pedagogy and curricula across various scholarly disciplines

Narrative Concerns Todd

Davis, Kenneth Womack, 2025-08-20 Bridging existing gaps between postmodern theory fiction and ethics Narrative Concerns Ethical Criticism in Literature Music and Film offers an innovative critical analysis of the ways in which fictional narratives impact our lives as well as of the evolving nature of our understanding of the ethical possibilities inherent in postmodern humanism The wide array of writers directors and musicians examined in Narrative Concerns include Steven Spielberg Quentin Tarantino Jean Rhys John Irving Norman Maclean Anthony Burgess Kurt Vonnegut James Cameron Beyonc and Mary Oliver These creators frequently explore our postmodern preoccupation with the void in new and often innovative ways from their challenging perceptions of the family humor and narrative design to their examinations of the past the power of history and the redemptive nature of humanity Davis and Womack read their works to demonstrate a fascinating assortment of literary characters in the act of generating new conceptions of selfhood underscore how a given text's construction affects our understanding of the ethically motivated acts of authorship and storytelling and address the powerful bonds of human community By challenging the very nature in which we conduct literary and theoretical studies ethical criticism thus offers useful forays into a wide range of disciplines from feminism and gender studies to cultural criticism and the dynamics of race and ethnicity

In Praise of Retreat Kirsteen MacLeod, 2021-03-30

For readers of Walden Wild Pilgrim at Tinker's Creek A Book of Silence A Gift from the Sea and other celebrations of the inner adventure An utterly engaging dive into our modern ways of retreat where we go why we're drawn and how it's urgent From pilgrim paths to forest cabins and from rented hermitages to arts temples and quiet havens for yoga and meditation In Praise of Retreat explores the pleasures and powers of this ancient practice for modern people Kirsteen MacLeod draws on the history of retreat and personal experiences to reveal the many ways readers can step back from society to reconnect with their deepest selves and to their loftiest aspirations in life In the 21st century disengaging even briefly is seen by many as self-indulgent unproductive and antisocial Yet to retreat is as basic a human need as being social and everyone can benefit whether it's for a weekend a month or a lifetime Retreat is an uncertain adventure with as many peaks and valleys as any mountain expedition except we head inward to recharge and find fresh energy and brave new ideas to bring back into our everyday lives

Plants in Contemporary

Poetry John Ryan, 2017-08-15 Positioned within current ecocritical scholarship this volume is the first book-length study of the representations of plants in contemporary American English and Australian poetry Through readings of botanically minded writers including Les Murray Louise Glück and Alice Oswald it addresses the relationship between language and the subjectivity agency sentience consciousness and intelligence of vegetal life Scientific philosophical and literary frameworks enable the author to develop an interdisciplinary approach to examining the role of plants in poetry Drawing from recent plant science and contributing to the exciting new field of critical plant studies the author develops a methodology he calls botanical criticism that aims to redress the lack of emphasis on plant life in studies of poetry As a subset of ecocriticism botanical criticism investigates how poets engage with plants literally and figuratively materially and symbolically in their works Key themes covered in this volume include plants as invasives and weeds in human settings as sources of physical and spiritual nourishment as signifiers of region home and identity as objects of aesthetics and objectivism and crucially as beings with their own perspectives voices and modes of dialogue Ryan demonstrates that poetic imagination is as essential as scientific rationality to elucidating and appreciating the mysteries of plant being This book will appeal to a multidisciplinary readership in the fields of ecocriticism ecopoetry environmental humanities and ecocultural studies and will be of interest to researchers in the emerging area of critical plant studies
