

African Elephants

The two species of African elephant are the African savanna elephant and the African forest elephant. The African savanna elephant is the world's largest land mammal.

Where do they live?

- African savanna elephants live in deserts, grasslands and wooded savannas.
- African forest elephants live in dense rainforests.

What do they look like?

- African elephants have large ears that help them keep cool in the heat.
- They have two 'fingers' at the tip of their trunk. This allows them to pick up small pieces of food.
- They have two large tusks that are used to dig up roots and pull bark from trees.

How do they communicate?

- Elephants are social animals and communicate through body language, touch and smell.
- They make trumpet sounds with their trunks to warn others and when they are excited.
- They can make rumbling sounds that vibrate through the ground and can be felt by other elephants.

What do they eat?

- Elephants are herbivores and eat grasses, leaves, shrubs, fruits, roots, bark and twigs.
- They can spend most of the day eating.

Did you know...?

Elephants are hunted for the ivory in their tusks. They are a protected species.

Foundation Subjects and Religious Education in the Primary School Peter D. Pumfrey,Gajendra K. Verma,2018-12-07 First published in 1993 This volume brings together writings of specialists in the key components of both the whole and the basic curriculum It sets out to describe and discuss cultural diversity and the whole curriculum from a variety of perspectives and to consider how the concerns of ethnic groups may be addressed within the framework of the national curriculum To this end specialists in areas of the curriculum consider some of the challenges and describe promising practices in the secondary school Much remains undecided concerning the structure content pedagogy and assessment of many components of the primary school curriculum Despite these considerations the multicultural nature of the population and of schools will develop These developments and their educational implications must be considered if the educational system is to respond adequately Although the rules of the curricular game are still being negotiated in relation to a number of aspects of the curriculum the editors have deliberately ventured into this controversial field They do so because of the increasing importance of ethnic diversity of the
