Charleville Mansion Sahil Sharma, 2021-08-09 The sound was clearly that of water trickling and I set it down to rain A shower I told myself had filled the water pipes which drained the roof Somehow I could not fix the sound There was a water pipe against the wall just outside the window I rose and drew up the blind To my astonishment no rain was falling no rain had fallen I felt the slate window still some dew had gathered there no more There was no wind no cloud only a still moon high over the Shimla Hills I went back to bed and listened again Yes the trickling sound continued quite distinct in the silence of house not to be confused for a moment with the dull murmur of the pine trees After a while it began to grate on my nerves I caught up my candle flung my dressing gown about me and stole softly downstairs Despite the chilliness of the night there was something in the air I jogged along the walk to the driveway and stepped around to the driver's side Go ahead I felt a strange sensation The echoes of his voice died away slowly all over the car With thrilling twists and turns read the story for some spine chilling adventures with the spirits of Shimla Here is a book that dims the light around you that carries you relentlessly into the centre of its spell A book that will make you afraid again almost too afraid to go on and yet powerless to stop Get ready to be spooked
