

Student Guide to Annotation

BEFORE YOU READ

1. Preview the text. Before starting to read, look through the material (s) and note text features like HEADINGS, bold words, italicized words, charts, graphs, images, etc. Use this information to predict what the passage(s) will cover.
2. Know your purpose. Set a purpose for reading the materials before you begin.
3. Locate the driver (usually indicated by a dot) throughout the passage(s) and identify them using letters (A, B, C, D, etc.)
4. Number the paragraphs in each new section of the passage

(What feature has helped you figure out what the material is about? The dot which indicates what paragraph is or what paragraph is the main paragraph. Through your reading and other text in the passage you read)

(What feature will help you with a section. They will be what your instructor paragraph number section of reading wanted)

AS YOU READ

1. Circle words that are unfamiliar to you and either (A) define them in the margins or (B) replace them with a synonym you know and understand. Example: found that even though the job is simple
2. Use question marks to identify questions you may have as you read. Be sure to also write down your questions. This will ensure you can remember it when you have the opportunity to ask for clarification.
3. Use arrows to make comments, connections, revelations, etc. in the margins regarding key phrases and ideas within the passage(s).
4. Use exclamation marks to make note of anything that surprises or excites you. Then, make a brief note as to why in the margins.

(What if something didn't fit in you, what comment about why it doesn't fit you read and what you think you have to say. Something that is a connection. It's phrase captured you, so you remember for it, stop)

5. Highlight key phrases within each paragraph that best summarize and/or illustrate its main idea.
6. Place brackets around key details in each paragraph that support the highlighted phrases. You could also choose to highlight these details in a different color than what you have used to highlight the main idea.

Tip and Trick for Highlighting Text

- Only highlight what you've read. Don't read ahead of a paragraph. Stop and think about what you've read and decide the main concept before you highlight.
- Don't yourself to circle highlighting the key phrases and ideas that NOT represent the main concept in each paragraph. Try to avoid highlighting full sentences.
- Once you have marked the end of a section, look back over the highlighted words and phrases to ensure you have understood the important concept before moving to the next section.

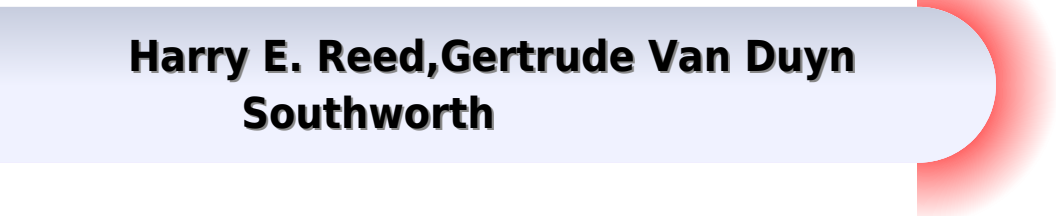

AFTER YOU READ

Identify important part of text

1. Summarize each section of reading in one or two sentences. This can be done in the margins beside each section heading. This will make it easy for you to remember the main ideas presented in each section of reading AND ensure that you understood what you read.
2. Ask clarifying questions about anything you have read if appropriate.
