Blending Qualitative and Quantitative Research Methods in Theses and Dissertations R. Murray

Thomas,2003-03-14 Aimed at empowering students with the information necessary to choose the best approach to fit their needs the text outlines numerous research options from varying viewpoints and highlights the procedures involved with putting each method into practice Qualitative Research Journal This book offers a broad spectrum of research methodologies within one text that is easy to understand R Murray Thomas examines educational research as a series of simple and complex questions This integrated presentation of research methodologies makes this a unique text Roxana Della Vecchia Assistant Dean College of Education Towson University Traditionally graduate students have written theses and dissertations that take either qualitative or quantitative approach But in the current environment many students are opting for a mixed methods approach that combines some quantitative methods with qualitative methods This is a growing trend yet no book exists that applies mixed methods to writing the dissertation or theses This book aims to fill that gap

Blending Qualitative and Quantitative Research Methods in Theses and Dissertations R. Murray Thomas,2003-03-25 This groundbreaking guide discusses various research methods the strengths and limitations of each and how they can be effectively combined The Essence of Research Methodology Jan Jonker,Bartjan Pennink,2010-03-10 Methodology is the eld which is indisputably complex In the academic world it is often said to be important yet in everyday academic practice it is not always treated accordingly In teaching methodology is often a mandatory course Usually it consists of learning how to adopt several common approaches when doing research and how to conceive a research design often leading to a survey This usually leads to collecting data on a modest scale and when the opportunity arises analysing the data with the help of some statistics Ask the students of their opinion at the end of such a course and they tend to heave a deep sigh of relief and say I have got through it Then their real courses start again in which methodology often does not play a role at all We are of the opinion that writing off methodology in this way is a real pity It ignores the valuable role that methodology should play in academic teaching as a whole Here methodology is presented as a form of thinking and acting that while obviously entailing research work can also include the design and change of organisations This broad approach has been purposefully chosen as it is almost obvious from research and graduation projects that the students do not really have a clue what methodology involves and therefore wasting their time by producing work that has a little quality

Participatory Action Research for Educational Leadership E. Alana James,Margaret T. Milenkiewicz,Alan Bucknam,2007-07-17 Follow the author on Twitter Alana James has a new twitter feed titled AR4Everything which covers action research and reports on interesting facts Finally we have a data driven text on participatory action research for educational leaders Through thoughtful examples and guided instruction this text makes the case that the complex issues of today and tomorrow require multifaceted rigorous and results oriented processes best undertaken through partnerships between educators and the communities they serve Darlyne Bailey Dean and Assistant to the President University of Minnesota This book includes a very useful hands on approach to developing a PAR project It is written in a manner that is accessible to teachers it is detailed enough to provide clear descriptions and the exercises at the end of each chapter help readers to implement the new material Elizabeth Grassi Regis University In a clear manner this text provides the tools necessary to conduct collaborative action research in order to create needed change in our classrooms and schools Using this book teachers administrators parents and students can become active participants in the movement toward educational change Emma Fuentes University of San Francisco The participatory action research PAR process discussed in the text represents the next evolutionary stage for action research and practitioner research in education Authors E Alana James Margaret T Milenkiewicz and Alan Bucknam provide a readable overview of the PAR process similar to professional learning communities in schools This fresh approach to participatory action research fully integrates process with research methodology The results of the original PAR study and continued work with educational leaders propose that this And Both approach ultimately produces the effect that school leaders seek and appreciate Key Features Guides the reader through the PAR steps with a graphically illustrated process The book s design reaches out to visual learners with graphic elements while employing a research logic model that helps ensure rigorous research methodology Provides reflective questions preceding each section The questions increase the reflective practices and routines of the reader as appropriate to the PAR process Presents real world examples Practitioner stories make the lessons real and alleviate the emotional unease that comes from tackling research practices for the first time Offers tasks for working both in teams and as individuals These tools aid participatory teams in working toward consensus and strong research designs Intended Audience This is an ideal core text for graduate courses such as Action Research for School Improvement Research for Educational Practitioners Practitioner Research and Teacher as Researcher in departments of education It can also be used as a supplemental text in other research methods courses and in data driven decision making courses
