Animal Grief How Animals Mourn:

Animal Grief - How animals mourn David Alderton, Science is now providing some remarkable insights into animal behaviour with crocodiles for example emerging as devoted parents and elephants like whales able to communicate with each other across long distances by ultrasound which is inaudible to our ears There seems little doubt that animals experience a range of emotions just as we do but can they grieve too Evidence exists that indeed they can in addition David Alderton award winning multi million specialist animal author contends that emotions including grief can potentially have a survival value for a species The authoritative rational text is superbly supported by interesting sensitive photographs carefully chosen to be reflective of the subject matter How Animals Grieve Barbara J. King,2013-03-21 Examines the nature of grief in animals providing examples of how animals as diverse as ants and elephants mourn their dead and advocates for increased attention to animal emotions Mourning Animals Margo DeMello,2016-08-01 We live more intimately with nonhuman animals than ever before in history The change in the way we cohabitate with animals can be seen in the way we treat them when they die There is an almost infinite variety of ways to help us cope with the loss of our nonhuman friends from burial cremation and taxidermy to wearing or displaying the remains ashes fur or other parts of our deceased animals in jewelry tattoos or other artwork to counselors who specialize in helping people mourn pets to classes for veterinarians to tips to help the surviving animals who are grieving their animal friends to pet psychics and memorial websites But the reality is that these practices and related beliefs about animal souls or animal afterlife generally only extend with very few exceptions to certain kinds of animals pets Most animals in most cultures are not mourned and the question of an animal afterlife is not contemplated at all Mourning Animals investigates how we mourn animal deaths which animals are grievable and what the implications are for all animals Mourning Companion Animals Susan Dowd Stone,2024-04-11 Mourning Companion Animals is a guidebook for mental health clinicians searching for effective compassionate resources to guide their clients through the often devastating experience of animal companion loss Chapters offer powerful and comprehensive strategies to heal animal companion loss based in sound evidenced based theoretical perspectives The included author generated inventory the animal companion bereavement questionnaire provides further assistance in clinician exploration of each client s unique bond with their lost companion The book s content is the result of more than twenty five of extensive work within the human animal bond clinical training in the referenced therapies and application of major psychodynamic theories How Animals Grieve Barbara J. King,2013-03-28 A touching and provocative exploration of the latest research on animal minds and animal emotions from the renowned anthropologist and author The Washington Post Scientists have long cautioned against anthropomorphizing animals arguing that it limits our ability to truly comprehend the lives of other creatures Recently however things have begun to shift in the other direction and anthropologist Barbara J King is at the forefront of that movement arguing strenuously that we can and should attend to animal emotions With How

Animals Grieve she draws our attention to the specific case of grief and relates story after story from fieldsites farms homes and more of animals mourning lost companions mates or friends King tells of elephants surrounding their matriarch as she weakens and dies and in the following days attending to her corpse as if holding a vigil A housecat loses her sister from whom she's never before been parted and spends weeks pacing the apartment wailing plaintively A baboon loses her daughter to a predator and sinks into grief In each case King uses her anthropological training to interpret and try to explain what we see to help us understand this animal grief properly as something neither the same as nor wholly different from the human experience of loss The resulting book is both daring and down to earth strikingly ambitious even as it's careful to acknowledge the limits of our understanding Through the moving stories she chronicles and analyzes so beautifully King brings us closer to the animals with whom we share a planet and helps us see our own experiences attachments and emotions as part of a larger web of life death love and loss The Loss of a Pet Wallace Sife, Ph.D.,2014-03-18

Understanding helps heal the hurt when you lose a pet A cherished pet gives you boundless unconditional love and occupies a special place in your routine your home and your heart When your pet dies that warm special place becomes a sad empty space This book helps you understand The grieving process including typical stages of grief and techniques for coping Grieving for a missing pet one you had to give up because of a change in life situation and other difficult circumstances Children and the death of a pet Euthanasia including important considerations Religion and the death of a pet with articles by various religious leaders Aftercare facilities including an extensive index of pet cemeteries crematories and memorial gardens This award winning book has been hailed as the seminal work in the field And now the fourth newly revised and expanded edition offers so much more to the bereaving pet owner This edition also includes a significant new way of considering the meaning of afterlife for us and our pets It discusses the topic from a twenty first century scientific perspective that is very different from existing religious or metaphysical ones offering a new comfort to skeptics and agnostics as well Do Animals Grieve? Kunal Kapoor,2025-09-27

What do elephants do when one of their own dies Why do dolphins carry their lifeless calves for days Why do crows gather around their dead as if holding funerals For centuries we believed grief was a uniquely human experience But around the world scientists are uncovering haunting stories that challenge this idea and raise unsettling questions about the hidden emotional lives of animals From the orca who carried her dead calf for 17 days to baboons whose stress levels spike after losing a companion to magpies laying grass beside the body of a fallen peer Do Animals Grieve takes you deep into the evidence and the mystery Is this instinct confusion or something far more profound And if animals do grieve what does that mean for the way we treat them This book blends science philosophy and real life stories into a powerful exploration of love loss and the bonds that may unite all living beings Pet Loss and Human Bereavement William J. Kay,1984 Pet Projects Elizabeth Young,2019-12-17

In Pet Projects Elizabeth Young joins an analysis of the representation of animals in nineteenth century fiction taxidermy and the visual arts with a first person reflection on her own scholarly journey Centering on Margaret Marshall Saunders a Canadian woman writer once famous for her animal novels and incorporating Young's own experience of a beloved animal's illness this study highlights the personal and intellectual stakes of a pet project of cultural criticism Young assembles a broad archive of materials beginning with Saunders's novels and widening outward to include fiction nonfiction photography and taxidermy She coins the term first dog voice to describe the narrative technique of novels such as Saunders's Beautiful Joe written in the first person from the perspective of an animal She connects this voice to contemporary political issues revealing how animal fiction such as Saunders's reanimates nineteenth century writing about both feminism and slavery Highlighting the prominence of taxidermy in the late nineteenth century she suggests that Saunders transforms taxidermic techniques in surprising ways that provide new forms of authority for women Young adapts Freud to analyze literary representations of mourning by and for animals and she examines how Canadian writers including Saunders use animals to explore race ethnicity and national identity Her wide ranging investigation incorporates twenty first as well as nineteenth century works of literature and culture including recent art using taxidermy and contemporary film Throughout she reflects on the tools she uses to craft her analyses examining the state of scholarly fields from feminist criticism to animal studies With a lively first person voice that highlights experiences usually concealed in academic studies by scholarly discourse such as detours zigzags roadblocks and personal experience this unique and innovative book will delight animal enthusiasts and academics in the fields of animal studies gender studies American studies and Canadian studies

Grieving the Death of a Pet Betty J. Carmack, 2025-05-27 The death of a pet brings a special kind of grief Today more than ever the beloved animal companions who walk with us through life are dear and loving friends as close to us in some ways as family members For this reason the death of a pet can bring a powerful sense of grief and loss as devastating in its own way as any other grief we can experience Those who experience the death of a pet need special guidance through the difficult emotions that can come immediately following the loss or a long time later In Grieving the Death of a Pet Betty J Carmack treats the loss of a pet with the seriousness and gentleness that it deserves and that pet lovers need Drawing on her own experience and on interviews with dozens of pet lovers she guides the reader through the initial loss of a pet to the dawning of new hope and reassurance
