Survive and Thrive Wendy Crone, 2022-05-31 The experience of an untenured faculty member is highly dependent on the quality of the mentoring they receive This mentoring may come from a number of different sources and the concept of developing a constellation of mentors is highly recommended but a mentoring relationship that is guided by the mentee's needs will be the most productive Often however the mentee does not know their own needs what questions to ask and what topics they should discuss with a mentor This book provides a guide to the mentoring process for untenured faculty Perspectives are provided and questions posed on topics ranging from establishing scholarly expertise and developing professional networks to personal health and balancing responsibilities The questions posed are not intended for the mentee to answer in isolation rather a junior faculty member should approach these questions throughout their untenured years with the help of their mentors Survive and Thrive A Guide for Untenured Faculty will help to facilitate the mentoring process and lead junior faculty to a path where they can move beyond just surviving and truly thrive in their position Table of Contents Tough

Laboratory Epistemologies Jenny Boulboulé, 2024-10-11 In Laboratory Epistemologies A Hands On Perspective Jenny Boulboulé examines the significance of hands on experiences in contemporary life sciences laboratories Addressing the relationship between contemplation and manipulation in epistemology Boulboulé combines participant observations in molecular genetics labs and microbiological cleanrooms with a longue dur e study of the history and philosophy of science She radically rereads Descartes s key epistemological text Meditations on First Philosophy reframing the philosopher as a hands on knowledge maker With this reading Boulboulé subverts the pervasive modern conception of the disembodied knower and puts the hands on experimenter at the heart of life sciences research In so doing she contributes a theoretical model for understanding how life processes on cellular and molecular levels are manually produced in today s techno scientific spaces By reassessing the Cartesian legacy and arguing that epistemology should be grounded in the standpoint of a hands on practitioner Boulboulé offers the philosophical and historical foundation to understand and study contemporary life sciences research as multisensory embodied practices
