Animal Diorama Pictures:

Hybrid Photography Sara Hillnhuetter, Stefanie Klamm, Friedrich Tietjen, 2021-04-07 This book explores the territories where manual graphic photographic and digital techniques interfere and interlace in sciences and humanities. It operates on the assumption that when photography was introduced it did not oust other methods of image production but rather became part of ever more specialized and sophisticated technologies of representation. The epistemological break commonly set with the advent of photography since the nineteenth century has probably been triggered by photographic techniques but certainly owes much to the availability of a plethora of hybrid media that influence the relation of sciences, humanities, and their methods and subjects. This book will be of interest to scholars in art and visual culture, photography, and history of photography.

Animal Remains Sarah Bezan, Robert McKay, 2021-11-29 The dream of humanism is to cleanly discard of humanity's animal remains along with its ecological embeddings, evolutionary heritages, and futures, ontogenies, and phylogenies, sexualities, and sensualities, vulnerabilities, and mortalities. But as the contributors to this volume demonstrate, animal remains are everywhere, and so animals remain everywhere. Animal remains are food, medicine, and clothing, extractive resources, and traces of animals' lifeworlds and ecologies; they are sites of political conflict and ontological fear, fetishized visual signs, and objects of trade, veneration, and memory; they are biotechnological innovations and spill over viruses. To make sense of the material afterlives of animals, this book draws together multispecies perspectives from literary criticism and theory, cultural studies, anthropology, and ethnography, photographic and film history, and contemporary art practice to offer the first synoptic account of animal remains. Interpreting them in all their ubiquity, diversity, and persistence, Animal Remains reveals posthuman relations between human and non-human communities of the living and the dead on timescales of decades, centuries, and millennia.
