Fragments of Home Tom Scott-Smith, 2024-09-03 Abandoned airports Shipping containers Squatted hotels These are just three of the many unusual places that have housed refugees in the past decade The story of international migration is often told through personal odysseys and dangerous journeys but when people arrive at their destinations a more mundane task begins refugees need a place to stay Governments and charities have adopted a range of strategies in response to this need Some have sequestered refugees in massive camps of glinting metal Others have hosted them in renovated office blocks and disused warehouses They often end up in prefabricated shelters flown in from abroad This book focuses on seven examples of emergency shelter from Germany to Jordan which emerged after the great summer of migration in 2015 Drawing on detailed ethnographic research into these shelters the book reflects on their political implications and opens up much bigger questions about humanitarian action By exploring how aid agencies and architects approached this basic human need Tom Scott Smith demonstrates how shelter has many elements that are hard to reconcile or combine shelter is always partial and incomplete producing mere fragments of home Ultimately he argues that current approaches to emergency shelter have led to destructive forms of paternalism and concludes that the principle of autonomy can offer a more fruitful approach to sensitive and inclusive housing

Time, Temporality and Violence in International Relations Anna Agathangelou, Kyle Killian, 2016-03-02 Time transforms the way we see world politics and insinuates itself into the ways we act In this groundbreaking volume Agathangelou and Killian bring together scholars from a range of disciplines to tackle time and temporality in international relations The authors critical theorists artists and poets theorize and speak from the vantage point of the anticolonial postcolonial and decolonial event They investigate an array of experiences and structures of violence oppression neocolonization slavery war poverty and exploitation focusing on the tensions produced by histories of slavery and colonization and disrupting dominant modes of how we understand present times This edited volume takes IR in a new direction defatalizing the ways in which we think about dominant narratives of violence peace and liberation and renewing what it means to decolonize today s world It challenges us to confront violence and suffering and articulates another way to think the world arguing for an understanding of the present as a vulnerable space through which radically different temporal experiences appear And it calls for a disruption of the everyday politics of expediency in the guise of neoliberalism and security This volume reorients the ethical and political assumptions that affectively imaginatively and practically captivate us simultaneously unsettling the familiar but dubious promises of a modernity that decimates political life Re animating an international political the authors evoke people s struggles and movements that are neither about redemption nor erasure but a suspension of time for radical new beginnings

Ecology and Literatures in English Françoise Besson, 2018-12-14 In all latitudes writers hold out a mirror leading the reader to awareness by telling real or imaginary stories about people of good will who try to save what can be saved and about animals showing humans the way to follow Such tales argue that in spite of all destructions and tragedies if we are just aware of and connected to the real world around us to the blade of grass at our feet and the star above our heads there is hope in a reconciliation with the Earth This may start with the emergence or rather the return of a nonverbal language restoring the connection between human beings and the nonhuman world through a form of communication beyond verbalization Through a journey in Anglophone literature with examples taken from Aboriginal African American English Canadian and Indian works this book shows the role played by literature in the protection of the planet It argues that literature reveals the fundamental idea that everything is connected and that it is only when most people are aware of this connection that the world will change Exactly as a tree is connected with all the animal life in and around it texts show that nothing should be separated From Shakespeare s theatre to ecopoetics from travel writing to detective novels from children s books to novels all literary genres show that literature responds to the violence destroying lands men and nonhuman creatures whose voices can be heard through texts
