The Life and Actions of that Ingenious Gentleman Don Quixote de la Mancha Miguel de Cervantes Saavedra, 1725 Latin American Documentary Film in the New Millennium

María Guadalupe Arenillas, Michael J. Lazzara, 2016-06-23 Nearly two decades into the new millennium Latin American documentary film is experiencing renewed vibrancy and visibility on the global stage While elements of the combative politicized cinema of the 1960s and 1970s remain the region's production has become increasingly subjective reflexive and experimental though perhaps no less political At the same time Latin American filmmakers both respond to and shape global tendencies in the genre This book highlights the richness and heterogeneity of Latin American documentary film surveys a broad range of national contexts styles and practices and expands current debates on the genre Thematic sections address the subjective turn of the 1990s and 2000s and the move beyond it the ethics of the encounter between the filmmaker and the subject object of his or her gaze and the performance of truth and memory a particularly urgent topic as Latin American countries have transitioned from dictatorship to democracy

Mahjar Camila Pastor, 2017-12-06 Migration from the Middle East brought hundreds of thousands of people to the Americas in the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries. By the time the Ottoman political system collapsed in 1918, over a third of the population of the Mashriq, i.e. the Levant, had made the transatlantic journey. This intense mobility was interrupted by World War I but resumed in the 1920s and continued through the late 1940s under the French Mandate. Many migrants returned to their homelands but the rest concentrated in Brazil, Argentina, the United States, Haiti, and Mexico, building transnational lives. The Mexican Mahjar provides the first global history of Middle Eastern migrations to Mexico. Making unprecedented use of French colonial archives and historical ethnography, Camila Pastor examines how French colonial control over Syria and Lebanon affected the migrants. Tracing issues of class, race, and gender through the decades of increased immigration to Mexico and looking at the narratives created by the Mahjaris, migrants themselves, in both their old and new homes, Pastor sheds new light on the creation of transnational networks at the intersection of Arab, French, and Mexican colonial modernisms. Revealing how migrants experienced mobility as conquest, diaspora, exile, or pilgrimage, The Mexican Mahjar tracks global history on an intimate scale.
