How Markets Work and Fail, and What to Make of Them Bart Nooteboom, 2014-10-31 In this thought provoking book Bart Nooteboom offers a radical critique of the principal intellectual and moral assumptions underlying economic science unravelling the notion of markets how they work and fail and how they may be redirected to bett

Climate Change, Radical Uncertainty and Hope Jan Jorrit Hasselaar, 2025-10-01 Views on climate change are often either pessimistic or optimistic In this book Jan Jorrit Hasselaar discovers and explores a third way one of hope A debate within economics on risk and uncertainty brings him to theological questions and the concept of hope in the work of the late Jonathan Sacks and to a renewed way of doing theology as an account of the good life What follows is an equal conversation between theology and economics as has hardly been undertaken in recent times It emerges that hope is not contrary to economic insights but remarkably compatible with them Communication between these fields of expertise can open the way for a courageous and creative embrace of radical uncertainty in climate change A key notion here is that of a public Sabbath or a workplace of hope times and places set aside to cultivate inspiration and mutual trust among all parties involved enabling them to take concrete steps forward Applied Theatre: Ethics Kirsten Sadeghi-Yekta, Monica Prendergast, 2022-01-27 Applied Theatre Ethics explores what it means for applied theatre practice to be conducted in an ethical way and examines how this affects the work done with communities and participants It considers how practitioners can balance aesthetics and ethics when creating performance particularly with relatively inexperienced and often vulnerable groups of people who are being asked to both tell and stage their stories The two sections bring together theoretical and practical ways for theatre makers to examine the ethics of their applied theatre projects Part One offers an overview of critical debates and the editors reflections on their own practice It introduces readers to ethics in applied theatre informed by the thinking of philosophers scholarly literature and the editors own experience including Indigenous perspectives on ethics and theatre For applied theatre practitioners it provides recommendations for community based ethical approaches working with principles of voice agency care service collaboration presence relationality and reciprocity Part Two presents a range of international case studies that explore how the theories and issues are worked out in a variety of diverse practices It considers ethics from varying critical perspectives and contexts including projects in Greece Nigeria Sri Lanka Bangladesh the United States the United Kingdom the Philippines and Canada Covering work with participants of many ages the case studies include the work of a professional dance theatre company working with people in substance abuse recovery in the UK interactive drama used in an educational context in Nigeria and the complexities around an applied theatre project on race in the US Education, Religion, and Ethics - A Scholarly Collection Dianne Rayson, 2023-04-18 This collection draws on research in educational areas displaying best practice pedagogy theoretical and practical underpinned by philosophy empirical science and neuroscience among other disciplines It focusses especially on implications for higher education school education professional ethics and religion Higher education exploration is on the diminution of the humanities and implications for the range of knowledge needed for future citizenship The work includes a revisioning of higher education s purpose especially the changing role of the doctorate and its examination The focus on school education takes the same pedagogical lens to humanities and social sciences examining values education and religious studies Ethical issues include colonisation and decolonisation especially around the concept of land and ramifications for intercultural studies The ethics and practice of teaching about life and death issues in medical education are explored in light of research in dialogic consensus The religion section includes research on interfaith education especially concerning Islam and eco theological education especially focussed on climate change Contributors are academic colleagues or former doctoral students of Terence J Lovat University Professor Australia UK and Canada whose internationally acclaimed research straddles these areas Many of the contributors hold positions of influence in the academic or professional world while others bring their newly minted doctoral research to the content The intended readership includes academics and doctoral students across education ethics religion social studies ecology health and medicine indigenous studies and international affairs This collection published in honour of Emeritus Professor Terence Lovat provides rich insights into the scope and multidisciplinary depth of his scholarship. A philosopher of education whose main work has centred on curriculum theory and values education and ethics in education, Lovat's scholarship reminds us that the education of children and young people must be concerned with more than academic attainment. In emphasising education as a holistic and moral endeavour, one involving hearts and minds, Lovat has consistently advocated for the provision of opportunities for young people to extend their horizons beyond the school environment to engage with issues in society that go beyond academic learning. Professor Lovat has also made a major and longstanding contribution to the development of Studies of Religion in schools and to the theology and history of Islam and Islamic Education. In traversing Lovat's significant and remarkable contributions to education, religion and ethics and the links between them, this book serves as a testament to a highly esteemed scholar. Associate Professor Deborah Henderson, Queensland University of Technology, Australia.

Process Philosophy Bart Nooteboom, 2021-03-31. The book analyses and compares a variety of processes of change in evolution, learning and innovation, language and meaning, self and society, and ethics and morality. Taking a realistic approach, the book is inspired by pragmatic philosophy, in particular that of Dewey, Nietzsche, Wittgenstein and Heidegger, and employs insights from economics, sociology, anthropology and social psychology. The book aims to give a coherent synthesis of ideas about change and aims to see how one can take a process view of various features of humanity, such as knowledge, relations between people, language and morality, and how vice versa that might contribute to process philosophy.

Uprooting Economics Bart Nooteboom, 2019. Much needed in the face of present political upheavals, including the rise of populism and re-emergence of nationalism and authoritarian regimes, this book is radical in both its critique and proposals for a new economics. Taking an interdisciplinary approach, Bart Nooteboom offers insights from economics, sociology, cognitive science, social psychology and philosophy.
