Women's History in Global Perspective Bonnie G. Smith, 2004 This second volume is concerned with issues that have shaped the history of women in particular places and during particular eras It examines women in ancient civilisations including women in China Japan and Korea women and gender in South Asia and Latin America medieval women and the history of women in the US until 1865 The Routledge History of Women in Europe Since 1700 Deborah

Simonton, 2006-04-27 This landmark publication collects the essays of the leading women's historians and provides the most coherent overview of women's role and place in Western Europe from the beginning of the eighteenth century to the twentieth century Time, Space, and Women's Lives in Early Modern Europe Anne Jacobson Schutte, Thomas

Kuehn, Silvana Seidel Menchi, 2001-09-01 This collection offers a variety of approaches to aspects of women's lives It moves beyond men's prescriptive pronouncements about female nature to women's lived experiences replacing the singular woman with plural women and illuminating female agency The contributors show that women's lives changed over the life course and differed according to region and social class They also demonstrate that in the early modern period the largely private spaces in women's lives were not enclosed worlds isolated from the public spaces in which men operated Contributors to this important collection are leading international scholars and offer strong substantial and archival based research Women's

Roles in Eighteenth-Century Europe Jennine Hurl-Eamon, 2010-04-09 This concise historical overview of the existing historiography of women from across eighteenth century Europe covers women of all ages married and single rich and poor

During the 18th century the Enlightenment the French Revolution protoindustrialization and colonial conquest made their marks on women's lives in a variety of ways. Women's Roles in Eighteenth Century Europe examines women of all ages and social backgrounds as they experienced the major events of this tumultuous period of sweeping social and political change. The book offers an inclusive portrayal of women from across Europe surveying nations from Portugal to the Russian Empire from Finland to Italy including the often overlooked women of Eastern Europe. It depicts queens an empress noblewomen peasants and midwives. Separate chapters on family work politics law religion arts and sciences and war explore the varying contexts of the feminine experience from the most intimate aspects of daily life to broad themes and conditions.

Women and Gender in Early Modern Europe Merry E. Wiesner, 2000-07-03 This is a major new textbook designed for students in all disciplines seeking an introduction to the very latest research on all aspects of women's lives in Europe from 1500 to 1750 and on the development of the notions of masculinity and femininity. The coverage is geographically broad ranging from Spain to Scandinavia and from Russia to Ireland and the topics investigated include the female life cycle literacy women's economic role sexuality artistic creations female piety and witchcraft and the relationship between gender and power. To aid students each chapter contains extensive notes on further reading but few footnotes and the approach throughout is designed to render the subject in as accessible and stimulating manner as possible. Women and Gender in Early Modern Europe is suitable for usage on numerous courses in women's history early modern European history and comparative history.

Gendering European History: 1780- 1920 Barbara Caine, Glenda Sluga, 2002-07-16 Gendering European History covers the period from the French Revolution to the end of the First World War. Organised both chronologically and thematically its central theme is the issue of gender and citizenship. The book encompasses the late eighteenth century revolutionary period nineteenth century developments concerning work urban and domestic life national politics gender in the fin de siècle and imperialism and concludes with the gender crisis of the First World War. Caine and Sluga explore the question of sexual difference in relation to class ethnicity and race and the development of key historical debates about identity work home politics and citizenship in specific national contexts and across Europe. At the same time they provide readers new to European history with general information about the social and political contexts in which those debates arose. Intended both as an introductory work for tertiary students and one that offers new interpretations for scholars in the field this study is a synthesis bringing together the extensive but often fragmented existing literature on gender in European history. It also raises new questions and introduces new sources particularly in relation to the history of gender and nation building. The result is a challenging view of the contours of European history in the period from the Enlightenment to the 1920s. Barbara Caine is Professor of History Monash University Victoria Australia. Glenda Sluga is Senior Lecturer in History and Director of European Studies University of Sydney New South Wales Australia.
