Becoming Water Michael Demuth, 2012-10-12 Provocative passionate and populist RMB Manifestos are short and concise non fiction books of literary critical and cultural studies Becoming Water takes the reader on a tour of Canada's glaciers describing the stories they tell and educating the reader about how glaciers came to be how they work and what their future holds in our warming world By visiting Canada's high and low Arctic and the mountain West the reader will learn how varied and complex our glaciers really are how they are measured and how they figure into the national and global story of inevitable change The reader will learn to think like a scientist in particular how to look at climate related data that contains cycles trends and shifts and then ponder what questions to ask in the face of our dramatically changing environment This book encourages Canadians to explore upstream from ourselves learning about our origins and how climate change and encroaching human settlement are drastically impacting our glaciers and therefore the natural and human landscapes that lie below and are dependent upon them

Digging the City Rhona McAdam, 2012 At the last census in 2006 just over 80 percent of Canada's population lived in urban centres How we feed that population and protect its food sources is an enduring subject of debate in food security circles these days As consumers and citizens we all need to take a hard look at the deficiencies in Canada's ability to feed the urban poor our dependence on imported foods and centralized food processing our detachment from our food sources the often problematic solutions to food security devised by governments municipalities and non profit groups and where we are headed if we change nothing in these times when change is urgently needed Many efforts are being made to introduce urban agriculture initiatives all across the country to address the problems we've created and to protect our cities from real and potential crises in the food supply With passion and lyricism Digging the City addresses the problems facing urban omnivores in the 21st century and looks at various policy grassroots and utopian solutions being developed and implemented while considering the pros and cons of plans such as vertical farms urban fish farms transition town initiatives seed banks permaculture and water conservation projects
