Myth and Fairy Tale in Contemporary Women's Fiction Susan Sellers, 2017-03-14 Woman as gorgon woman as temptress the classical and biblical mythology which has dominated Western thinking defines women in a variety of patriarchally encoded roles This study addresses the surprising persistence of mythical influence in contemporary fiction Opening with the question what is myth the first section provides a wide ranging review of mythography It traces how myths have been perceived and interpreted by such commentators as Sigmund Freud Carl Jung Bruno Bettelheim Roland Barthes Jack Zipes and Marina Warner This leads to an examination of the role that mythic narrative plays in social and self formation drawing on the literary feminist and psychoanalytic theories of Julia Kristeva Luce Irigaray Helene Cixous and Judith Butler to delineate the ways in which women s mythos can transcend the limitations of logos and give rise to potent new models for individual and cultural regeneration In this light Susan Sellers offers challenging new readings of a wide range of contemporary women s fiction including works by A S Byatt Angela Carter Anne Rice Michele Roberts Emma Tennant and Fay Weldon Topics explored include fairy tale as erotic fiction new religious writing vampires and gender bending mythic mothers genre fiction the still persuasive paradigm of feminine beauty and the radical potential of comedy Breaking the Frames Marc Singer, 2019-01-09 Comics studies has reached a crossroads Graphic novels have never received more attention and legitimation from scholars but new canons and new critical discourses have created tensions within a field built on the populist rhetoric of cultural studies As a result comics studies has begun to cleave into distinct camps based primarily in cultural or literary studies that attempt to dictate the boundaries of the discipline or else resist disciplinarity itself The consequence is a growing disconnect in the ways that comics scholars talk to each other or more frequently do not talk to each other or even acknowledge each other s work Breaking the Frames Populism and Prestige in Comics Studies surveys the current state of comics scholarship interrogating its dominant schools questioning their mutual estrangement and challenging their propensity to champion the comics they study Marc Singer advocates for greater disciplinary diversity and methodological rigor in comics studies making the case for a field that can embrace more critical and oppositional perspectives Working through extended readings of some of the most acclaimed comics creators including Marjane Satrapi Alan Moore Kyle Baker and Chris Ware Singer demonstrates how comics studies can break out of the celebratory frameworks and restrictive canons that currently define the field to produce new scholarship that expands our understanding of comics and their critics
