Australia Countries Of The World Set

Michael J. Enright, Richard Petty

Australia Countries Of The World Set :

Geography of the World's Major Regions John Cole, 2003-09-02 This volume presents a global view of today's most pressing issues through an analysis of the twelve major regions of the world. Environmental degradation, natural catastrophes, population pressures, and human conflict all impact in different ways and to different degrees on the society and environment of these regions. Economic and political restructuring within each region is covered, and topics include natural resources, agriculture, industry, and services, the role of the military, and the impact of global economic change. This work is intended as an introduction for students studying the changing geography of the world but should also provide a useful overview to students researching specific regions, seeking comparative analysis of regions, or following general courses on the economic and political geography of both the post-industrial and the developing worlds. Over 250 photographs, maps, and figures complement a range of boxed case studies, key points, questions, and guides to further reading. Countries of the World

The book compares Australia with other similarly sized OECD economies as well as other Asia-Pacific economies and looks at fifteen international sources of data on competitiveness. It features a large-scale survey on Australian companies and offers deep insight on the country's future in terms of economics and economic policy. Revealing an honest assessment of Australia's true position in the world, the book looks at how Australian businesses see themselves and offers policy positions for government and firms to make the most of Australia's unique global economic position. Backed by CPA Australia, one of the world's largest accounting bodies. Written by two global authorities on economic competitiveness. Captures the thinking of more than 6,000 business leaders both within and outside of Australia. Explains how Australia has weathered the global recession and looks at Australia's relationship with China. For business leaders and policy makers in need of an in-depth look at the current and future state of Australia's economy, this book offers valuable and comprehensive information. International Environmental Agreements on Climate Change Carlo Carraro, 2013-06-29 Climate change is one of the major environmental concerns of many countries in the world. Negotiations to control potential climate changes have been taking place from Rio to Kyoto for the last five years There is a widespread consciousness that the risk of incurring in relevant economic and environmental losses due to climate change is high Scientific analyses have become more and more precise on the likely impacts of climate change According to the Second Assessment Report of the Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change current trends in greenhouse gases GHGs emissions may indeed cause the average global temperature to increase by 1.3 to 5.8 C over the next 100 years As a result sea levels are expected to rise by 15 to 95 cm and climate zones to shift towards the poles by 150 to 550 km in mid latitudes In order to mitigate the adverse effects of climate change the IPCC report concludes that a stabilization of atmospheric concentration of carbon dioxide one of the major GHGs at 550 parts per million by volume ppmv is recommended This would imply a reduction of global emissions of about 50 per cent with respect to current levels In this context countries are negotiating to achieve a world wide agreement on GHGs emissions control in order to stabilize climate changes Despite the agreement on targets achieved in Kyoto many issues still remain unresolved
