sections investigations of the people processes products and places of collaborative creativity in compositional thought and practice explorations of the ways in which creative collaboration provides a means of crossing boundaries between disciplines such as music performance and musicology and studies of the emergence of creative thought and practice in educational contexts including that of the composer and the classroom The volume concludes with an extended chapter that reflects on the ways in which the studies reported advance understandings of creative thought and practice The book provides new perspectives to our understandings of the role of collaborative thought and processes in creative work across the domain of music including composition musicology performance music education and music psychology
