Animals Make Us Human Creating The Best Life For Animals:

Animals Make Us Human Temple Grandin, Catherine Johnson, 2009 The author of Animals in Translation employs her own experience with autism and her background as an animal scientist to show how to give animals the best and happiest life

Making Animals Happy Temple Grandin, Catherine Johnson, 2009 In her groundbreaking and bestselling book Animals in Translation Temple Grandin drew on her own experience with autism as well as her distinguished career as an animal scientist to deliver extraordinary insights into how animals think act and feel Now she builds on those insights to show us how to give our animals the best and happiest life on their terms not ours It s usually easy to pinpoint the cause of physical pain in animals but to know what is causing them emotional distress is much harder Drawing on the latest research and her own work Grandin identifies the core emotional needs of animals Then she explains how to fulfill them for dogs and cats horses farm animals and zoo animals Whether it s how to make the healthiest environment for the dog that you leave alone in the house during the day how to keep pigs from being bored or how to know if the lion pacing in the zoo is miserable or just exercising Grandin teaches us to challenge our assumptions about animal emotions Making Animals Happy is the culmination of almost 30 years of research experimentation and experience This is essential reading for anyone who s ever owned cared for or simply cared about an animal

The Intellectual Journey of Thomas Berry Heather Eaton, 2014-04-02 Thomas Berry had a gentle yet mesmerizing and luminescent presence that was evident to anyone who spent time with him His intellectual scope and erudite manner were compelling and the breadth depth clarity and elegance of his vision was breathtaking Berry was an intellectual giant and cultural visionary of extraordinary stature Thomas Berry s vast knowledge of history religions and cultural histories is a unique blend revealing a genuine original thinker The ecological crisis in all its manifestations came to dominate Berry s concerns He perceived that the greatest need was to offer the possibility of a viable future for an Earth community Many know of his proposal for a functional cosmology the need for a new story and a vital Earth sensitive spirituality Few know of his rich and varied intellectual journey The Intellectual Journey of Thomas Berry Imagining the Earth Community is about the roots and insights hidden within his ecological spiritual proposal These essays written by experts on Thomas Berry s work probe into and reveal distinct themes that permeate his work in gratitude for his contribution to the Earth

Animals and War Ryan Hediger, 2012-11-01 Animals and War is the first collection of essays to explore its important yet neglected topic Scholars from sociology history anthropology and literary and cultural studies investigate the presence of animals in human wars The essays analyze a wide range of phenomena including the new militarization of bees zoo animals during war war dogs Finish horses in World War II Canadian war literature and the effort to memorialize nonhuman war animals Although animals are often forced to participate in human wars their presence also signals human vulnerability and dependence Several chapters demonstrate that in the frequently horrible circumstances of war powerful sympathies nonetheless flourish between humans and animals Animals and War thus exposes the often paradoxical contours of human animal relationships

Cowed Denis Hayes, Gail Boyer Hayes, 2015-03-02 From leading ecology advocates a revealing look at our dependence on cows and a passionate appeal for sustainable living In Cowed globally recognized environmentalists Denis and Gail Boyer Hayes offer a revealing analysis of how our beneficial centuries old relationship with bovines has evolved into one that now endangers us Long ago cows provided food and labor to settlers taming the wild frontier and helped the loggers ranchers and farmers who shaped the country's landscape Our society is built on the backs of bovines who indelibly stamped our culture politics and economics But our national herd has doubled in size over the past hundred years to 93 million with devastating consequences for the country's soil and water Our love affair with dairy and hamburgers doesn't help either eating one pound of beef produces a greater carbon footprint than burning a gallon of gasoline Denis and Gail Hayes begin their story by tracing the co evolution of cows and humans starting with majestic horned aurochs before taking us through the birth of today's feedlot farms and the threat of mad cow disease The authors show how cattle farming today has depleted America's largest aquifer created festering lagoons of animal waste and drastically increased methane production In their quest to find fresh solutions to our bovine problem the authors take us to farms across the country from Vermont to Washington They visit worm ranchers who compost cow waste learn that feeding cows oregano yields surprising benefits talk to sustainable farmers who care for their cows while contributing to their communities and point toward a future in which we eat less but better beef In a deeply researched engagingly personal narrative Denis and Gail Hayes provide a glimpse into what we can do now to provide a better future for cows humans and the world we inhabit They show how our relationship with cows is part of the story of America itself

Confronting Climate Crises through Education Rebecca L. Young, 2018-10-15 Confronting Climate Crises through Education Reading Our Way Forward envisions the responsibility of public education to engage a citizenry more prepared to address the challenges of a changing world Young advocates a paradigm shift that positions ecopedagogy as the central organizing principle of curriculum and assessment design Each chapter outlines ways literature can serve as a cultural lens for examining the complex patterns of contexts behind our most pressing climate concerns including potential solutions these patterns may illuminate A focus on fiction and non fiction exemplars that can provide such a lens illustrates practical steps educators can take to develop instruction around the immediately relevant environmental crises we are experiencing and to inspire more ecologically conscious globally minded problem solvers prepared to confront them

The Distressed Body Drew Leder, 2016-10-17 Bodily pain and distress come in many forms They can well up from within at times of serious illness but the body can also be subjected to harsh treatment from outside The medical system is often cold and depersonalized and much worse are conditions experienced by prisoners in our age of mass incarceration and by animals trapped in our factory farms In this pioneering book Drew Leder offers bold new ways to rethink how we create and treat distress clearing the way for more humane social practices Leder draws on literary examples clinical and philosophical sources his medical training and his own struggle with chronic pain He levies a challenge to the capitalist and Cartesian models that rule modern medicine Similarly he looks at the root paradigms of our penitentiary and factory farm systems and the way these produce distressed bodies asking how such institutions can be reformed Writing with coauthors ranging from a prominent cardiologist to long term inmates he explores alternative environments that can better humanize even spiritualize the way we treat one another offering a very different vision of medical criminal justice and food systems Ultimately Leder proposes not just new answers to important bioethical questions but new ways of questioning accepted concepts and practices

Animal Ethics for Veterinarians Andrew Linzey, Clair Linzey, 2017-08-15 Veterinarians serve on the front lines working to prevent animal suffering and abuse For centuries their compassion and expertise have improved the quality of life and death for animals in their care However modern interest in animal rights has led more and more people to ask questions about the ethical considerations that lie behind common veterinary practices This Common Threads volume drawn from articles originally published in the Journal of Animal Ethics JAE offers veterinarians and other interested readers a primer on key issues in the field Essays in the first section discuss aspects of veterinary oaths how advances in animal cognition science factor into current ethical debates and the rise of complementary and alternative veterinary medicine and its relationship to traditional veterinary medicine The second section continues with an essay that addresses why veterinarians have an obligation to educate animal caregivers to look past cuteness in order to treat all animals with dignity The collection closes with three short sections focusing on animals in farming trade and research areas where veterinarians encounter conflicts between their job and their duty to advocate and care for animals Contributors Judith Benz Schwarzburg Vanessa Carli Bones Grace Clement Simon Coghlan Priscilla N Cohn Mark J Estren Elisa Galgut Eleonora Gullone Matthew C Halteman Andrew Knight Drew Leder Andrew Linzey Clair Linzey Kay Peggs Megan Schommer Clifford Warwick and James W Yeates
