Australia International Monetary Fund, 2012-11-21 Australia has a very high level of compliance with the Basel Core Principles for Effective Banking Supervision BCPs The Australian banking system was more sheltered than a number of other countries and weathered the Global Financial Crisis relatively well This was in part due to relative concentration of the system on a well performing domestic economy but also due to a material contribution from a well developed regulatory and supervisory structure. Notable strengths of the Australian supervisory approach rest in its strong risk analysis and on the focus of the responsibility of the Board. The Australian banking system however is still vulnerable to continuing aftershocks of the financial crisis not least as banks funding profiles could be a conduit of instability.

Australia International Monetary Fund. Monetary and Capital Markets Department, 2019-02-14. This Detailed Assessment of Observance report specifies Base Core Principles (BCP) for effective banking supervision in Australia. An assessment of the effectiveness of banking supervision requires a review of the legal framework and a detailed examination of the policies and practices of the institution's responsible for banking regulation and supervision. In line with the BCP methodology, the assessment focused on banking supervision and regulation in Australia and did not cover the specificities of regulation and supervision of other financial institutions. The assessment has made use of five categories to determine compliance: compliant, largely compliant, materially noncompliant, noncompliant, and non applicable. The report insists that Australian Prudential Regulation Authority (APRA) should put more focus on assessing the various components of firms' Internal Capital Adequacy Assessment Process and other firm wide stress testing practices. A periodic more comprehensive assessment of banks' risk management and governance frameworks will further enhance APRA's supervisory approach.
