Inventing Authenticity Carrie Helms Tippen, 2018-08-12 In Inventing Authenticity Carrie Helms Tippen examines the rhetorical power of storytelling in cookbooks to fortify notions of southernness Tippen brings to the table her ongoing hunt for recipe cards and evaluates a wealth of cookbooks with titles like Y'all Come Over and Bless Your Heart and famous cookbooks such as Sean Brock's Heritage and Edward Lee's Smoke and Pickles She examines her own southern history grounding it all in a thorough understanding of the relevant literature The result is a deft and entertaining dive into the territory of southern cuisine black eyed peas and cornbread fried chicken and fried okra pound cake and peach cobbler and a look at and beyond southern food tropes that reveals much about tradition identity and the yearning for authenticity Tippen discusses the act of cooking as a way to perform and therefore reinforce the identity associated with a recipe and the complexities inherent in attempts to portray the foodways of a region marked by a sometimes distasteful history Inventing Authenticity meets this challenge head on delving into problems of cultural appropriation and representations of race thorny questions about authorship and more The commonplace but deceptively complex southern cookbook can sustain our sense of where we come from and who we are or who we think we are

Sensing the Nation's Law Stefan Huygebaert, Angela Condello, Sarah Marusek, Mark Antaki, 2018-03-22 This book examines how the nation and its fundamental law are sensed by way of various aesthetic forms from the age of revolution up until our age of contested democratic legitimacy Contemporary democratic legitimacy is tied among other things to consent to representation to the identity of ruler and ruled and of course to legality and the legal forms through which democracy is structured This book expands the ways in which we can understand and appreciate democratic legitimacy If democratic communities are imagined this book suggests that their rightfulness must be sensed analogously to the need for justice not only to be done but to be seen to be done This book brings together legal historical and philosophical perspectives on the representation and iconography of the nation in the European North American and Australian contexts from contributors in law political science history art history and philosophy

The Metamorphosis of Greek Cuisine Nafsika Papacharalampous, 2023-11-10 This book is an ethnography of the metamorphosis of rural foods and traditional dishes and of the making of cuisine and identity in contemporary Athens In the wake of the financial crisis in Athens in the mid 2010s forgotten rural foods of the past are transformed into luxurious artisanal foods while traditional dishes appear reinvented in fine dining restaurants after decades of darkness How and why is this all happening in a city of poverty hardship and economic crisis Through sensory descriptions and thick ethnographic material it follows the Athenian affluent middle class in upscale delis and goes inside fine dining restaurant kitchens discussing the complex combination of cuisine tradition memory and identity revealing the cultural logic and social aspects of cuisine It demonstrates how cuisine emerges from very different often contradictory social spaces not only as an intellectual and aesthetic endeavour of chefs or as a revival of foods and foodways that link the country and the city but also as interlinked with embodied memories and embedded in social relations and commensality This book will be of great interest to scholars and students in Anthropology and Food Studies

Gastronomic Judaism as Culinary Midrash Jonathan D. Brumberg-Kraus, 2018-10-29 This book is about what makes food Jewish or better who and how one makes food Jewish Making food Jewish is to negotiate between the local regional and now global foods available to eat and the portable Jewish taste preferences Jews have inherited from their sacred texts and calendars What makes Jewish food Jewish and what makes Jewish eating practices continually viable and meaningful are not fixed dietary rules and norms but rather culinary interpretations and adaptations of them to new times and places culinary midrash Jewish cuisine is a fusion of interactions a reflection of displacement and intentional positioning and re positioning vis a vis sacred texts old and new lands Jewish and non Jewish neighbors old and new family combinations re imaginings of our personal ethnic gender and other identities Jonathan Brumberg Kraus questions Jewish identity in particular and identity generally as something fixed stable and singular and unintentional Jewish food choices are situational often temporary expressions of Jewish identity It addresses the tension between what Jewish authoritative textual sources and their proponents say is Jewish food and Jewish eating and what Jews actually eat So while discussing connections between ancient religious texts and modern Jewish food preferences this book does not stop there Using examples from his experience Brumberg Kraus describes the improvisational characteristics of gastronomic Judaism as the interplay of texts tastes artifacts and everyday practices not only in the classic sacred texts but also in Jewish cookbooks and internet blogs on Jewish home cooking seasonal intensification of Jewish food choices e g latkes at Chanukah or keeping kosher for Passover safe treif the fusion cultural appropriation of diasporic Biblical and Palestinian foods in new Israeli cuisine and the impact of the environmentalist New Jewish Food movement on contemporary Jewish food choices and identity Routledge International Handbook of Food Studies Ken Albala,2013-05-07 Over the past decade there has been a remarkable flowering of interest in food and nutrition both within the popular media and in academia Scholars are increasingly using foodways food systems and eating habits as a new unit of analysis within their own disciplines and students are rushing into classes and formal degree programs focused on food Introduced by the editor and including original articles by over thirty leading food scholars from around the world the Routledge International Handbook of Food Studies offers students scholars and all those interested in food related research a one stop easy to use reference guide Each article includes a brief history of food research within a discipline or on a particular topic a discussion of research methodologies and ideological or theoretical positions resources for research including archives grants and fellowship opportunities as well as suggestions for further study Each entry also explains the logistics of succeeding as a student and professional in food studies This clear direct Handbook will appeal to those hoping to start a career in academic food studies as well as those hoping to shift their research to a food related project Strongly interdisciplinary this work will be of interest to students and scholars throughout the social sciences and humanities

Food and Drink in Egypt and Sudan Mennat-Allah El Dorry,2023-12-31 The study of historic foodways is as multifaceted and varied as food itself The changes we see in food habits and choices over history reveal evolving social and political climates and help us envision our ancestors everyday lives and imagined afterlives Food certainly played a role in funerary rites it was offered to the dead of course but also shared at the grave among the living family members symbolically bridging between this world and the next Choosing the food was embedded in a series of traditions and norms how it relates to what was actually eaten in associated settlements enables an understanding of its meaning Feasts whether for the dead or the living were laden with political and social meaning Fasting although requiring abstention from certain foods also involves the management from sourcing and storing to cooking and eating of the permitted foods a key concern in contexts such as monasteries where fasting occurred This collective work demonstrates the diversity of possible approaches to food It presents the current state of research on the foodways of Egypt and Sudan and highlights the importance of further interdisciplinary collaboration for a big picture approach It brings together 16 articles covering archaeology in the broadest sense theory anthropology language ethnography and architecture to illustrate food traditions and history in Egypt and Sudan from as early as the 4th millennium BC to the 20th century Modernist Short Fiction and Things Aimée Gasston,2021-08-10 This book reappraises the philosophical value of short fiction by Virginia Woolf Katherine Mansfield and Elizabeth Bowen examining the stories through the lens of specific everyday objects Looking at Woolf and armchairs

Mansfield and snack food and Bowen and fashion accessories it probes the aesthetic resonance between these stories form and contents and also considers the modes of thinking they might promote Conceiving of their short fiction as intrinsically radical and experimental even within a wider context of modernist innovation this book shows how these important women writers brought quotidian objects to riotous life in such a way that tasked readers with reevaluating their everyday existence Overall Modernist Short Fiction and Things argues that short fiction epitomises modernist aesthetics functioning as a resonant source for investigation and complementing and expanding our understanding of modernist epistemology
