Automatic Indexing And Abstracting Of Document Texts The Information Retrieval Series:

Automatic Indexing and Abstracting of Document Texts Marie-Francine Moens, 2013-03-12 Automatic Indexing and Abstracting of Document Texts summarizes the latest techniques of automatic indexing and abstracting and the results of their application. It also places the techniques in the context of the study of text manual indexing and abstracting and the use of the indexing descriptions and abstracts in systems that select documents or information from large collections. Important sections of the book consider the development of new techniques for indexing and abstracting. The techniques involve the following: using text grammars, learning of the themes of the texts including the identification of representative sentences or paragraphs by means of adequate cluster algorithms and learning of classification patterns of texts. In addition, the book is an attempt to illuminate new avenues for future research. Automatic Indexing and Abstracting of Document Texts is an excellent reference for researchers and professionals working in the field of content management and information retrieval.

Information Access through Search Engines and Digital Libraries Maristella Agosti, 2007-10-27 The Information Management Systems group at the University of Padua, led by Maristella Agosti, has been a major contributor to information retrieval and digital libraries for nearly twenty years. This group has produced some of Italy's best known IR researchers whose work spans a broad range of topics as the papers in this book demonstrate. One of the goals of the IR book series is to highlight the work of academic research centers in our field in order to balance the perception that everyone in IR works for a search engine company. One of the best aspects of our field is that as academic researchers we can work with new graduate students and collaborate with companies to ensure that our research has direct impact on systems that people use every day. The Padua group is typical in this respect and has been involved in a series of collaborations and major European projects over the years. I hope this volume inspires graduate students to pursue research in IR and I encourage other research groups to contribute their own collections of papers. Amherst, Massachusetts, July 2007. W. Bruce Croft. Preface. The Information Management Systems (IMS) Research Group was formed in the Department of Information Engineering formerly Department of Electronics and Computer Science of the University of Padua Italy in 1987 when the department was established The group activities are concerned with the design modeling and implementation of advanced information retrieval tools such as search engines and digital library systems

Computing Attitude and Affect in Text: Theory and Applications James G. Shanahan, Yan Qu, Janyce Wiebe, 2006-01-17 Human Language Technology HLT and Natural Language Processing NLP systems have typically focused on the factual aspect of content analysis Other aspects including pragmatics opinion and style have received much less attention However to achieve an adequate understanding of a text these aspects cannot be ignored The chapters in this book address the aspect of subjective opinion which includes identifying different points of view identifying different emotive dimensions and classifying text by opinion Various conceptual models and computational methods are presented The models explored in this book include the following distinguishing attitudes from simple factual assertions distinguishing between the author's reports from reports of other people's opinions and distinguishing between explicitly and implicitly stated attitudes In addition many applications are described that promise to benefit from the ability to understand attitudes and affect including indexing and retrieval of documents by opinion automatic question answering about opinions analysis of sentiment in the media and in discussion groups about consumer products political issues etc brand and reputation management discovering and predicting consumer and voting trends analyzing client discourse in therapy and counseling determining relations between scientific texts by finding reasons for citations generating more appropriate texts and making agents more believable and creating writers aids The studies reported here are carried out on different languages such as English French Japanese and Portuguese Difficult challenges remain however It can be argued that analyzing attitude and affect in text is an NLP complete problem

Topic Detection and Tracking James Allan, 2012-12-06 Topic Detection and Tracking Event based Information Organization brings together in one place state of the art research in Topic Detection and Tracking TDT This collection of technical papers from leading researchers in the field not only provides several chapters devoted to the research program and its evaluation paradigm but also presents the most current research results and describes some of the remaining open challenges Topic Detection and Tracking Event based Information Organization is an excellent reference for researchers and practitioners in a variety of fields related to TDT including information retrieval automatic speech recognition machine learning and information extraction

Integrated Region-Based Image Retrieval James Z. Wang, 2012-12-06 Content based image retrieval is the set of techniques for retrieving relevant images from an image database on the basis of automatically derived image features The need for efficient content based image retrieval has increased tremendously in many application areas such as biomedicine the military commerce education and Web image classification and searching In the biomedical domain content based image retrieval can be used in patient digital libraries clinical diagnosis searching of 2 D electrophoresis gels and pathology slides I started my work on content based image retrieval in 1995 when I was with Stanford University The project was initiated by the Stanford University Libraries and later funded by a research grant from the National Science Foundation The goal was to design and implement a computer system capable of indexing and retrieving large collections of digitized multimedia data available in the libraries based on the media contents At the time it seemed reasonable to me that I should discover the solution to the image retrieval problem during the project Experience has certainly demonstrated how far we are as yet from solving this basic problem

Moed, Wolfgang Glänzel, Ulrich Schmoch, 2004-09-10 This handbook offers a state of the art overview of quantitative science and technology research It focuses on the development and application of indicators derived from data on scientific or scholarly publications and patents It comprises 34 chapters written by leading specialists in the various sub domains These chapters deal with theoretical and methodological issues illustrate applications and highlight their policy context and relevance Authors present a survey of the research topics they address and show their most recent achievements The 34 chapters are arranged into 5 parts Disciplinary Approaches General Methodology The Science System The Technology System and The Science Technology Interface The Editor's Introduction provides a further specification of the handbook's scope and of the main topics addressed in its chapters This handbook aims at four distinct groups of readers practitioners in the field of science and technology studies research students in this field scientists scholars and technicians who are interested in a systematic thorough analysis of their activities policy makers and administrators who wish to be informed about the potentialities and limitations of the various approaches and about their results Perspectives on Content-Based Multimedia Systems Jian Kang Wu, Mohan S. Kankanhalli, Joo-Hwee Lim, Dezhong Hong, 2006-04-11 Multimedia data comprising of images audio and video is becoming increasingly common The decreasing costs of consumer electronic devices such as digital cameras and digital camcorders along with the ease of transportation facilitated by the Internet has led to a phenomenal rise in the amount of multimedia data generated and distributed Given that this trend of increased use of multimedia data is likely to accelerate there is an urgent need for providing a clear means of capturing storing indexing retrieving analyzing and summarizing such data Content based access to multimedia data is of primary importance since it is the natural way by which human beings interact with such information To facilitate the content based access of multimedia information the first step is to derive feature measures from these data so that a feature space representation of the data content can be formed This can subsequently allow for mapping the feature space to the symbol space semantics either automatically or through human intervention Thus signal to symbol mapping useful for any practical system can be successfully achieved Perspectives on Content Based Multimedia Systems provides a comprehensive set of techniques to tackle these important issues This book offers detailed solutions to a wide range of practical problems in building real systems by providing specifics of three systems built by the authors While providing a systems focus it also equips the reader with a keen understanding of the fundamental issues including a formalism for content based multimedia database systems multimedia feature extraction object based techniques signature based techniques and fuzzy retrieval techniques The performance evaluation issues of practical systems is also explained This book brings together essential elements of building a content based multimedia database system in a way that makes them accessible to practitioners in computer science and electrical engineering It can also serve as a textbook for graduate level courses
