Between Nationalism And Europeanisation Narratives Of National Identity In Bulgaria And Macedonia:

Between Nationalism and Europeanisation Nevena Nancheva, 2015-09-25 Why do we need European integration in increasingly fragmented and antagonised European societies How can European integration relate to the national stories we carry about who we are as a nation and where we belong What to do with the national stories that tell traumatising tales of past loss and sacrifice and depict others as villains or foes Can we still claim that our national states are the most legitimate way of organising European political communities today Engaging with these big questions of European politics Nancheva's book tells a small story from the periphery of Europe It looks into two Balkan states post communist Bulgaria and Macedonia to see how their narratives of national identity have changed in the context of Europeanisation and EU membership preparations The book suggests that national identity and European integration might be more relevant than previously thought

Democracy in Southern Europe Isabelle Calleja Ragonesi, 2019-02-28 How have Malta and Cyprus both EU members transitioned from colonial island states to independent democracies With the assistance of primary documentation this book traces the difficult path of these two states to becoming independent liberal democracies by using the pathway of democratization through decolonization Using socio economic and political data analysed through the microscope of political science and international relations theories Isabelle Calleja Ragonesi charts the progress of the two islands in the context of a number of four distinct phases Firstly decolonization independence and achieving the status of procedural democracies secondly post colonial independence consolidating democracy and regime breakdown thirdly sovereign nation state status and second attempts at consolidating democracy and finally attempting to reach substantive democracy status and EU membership The study of these two states is contextualized within the context of democratization in Southern Europe and the cases of Malta and Cyprus provide new insights on the region for scholars of political science and international institutions

Minority Rights and Minority Protection in Europe Timofey Agarin,Karl Cordell,2016-03-24 In order to gain access to the EU nations must be seen to implement formal instruments that protect the rights of minorities This book examines the ways in which these tools have worked in a number of post communist states and explores the interaction of domestic and international structures that determine the application of these policies Using empirical examples and comparative cases the text explores three levels of policy making within sub state and national politics and within international agreements laws and policy blueprints This enables the authors to establish how domestic policymakers negotiate various structural factors in order to interpret rights norms and implement them long enough to gain EU accession Showing that it is necessary to focus upon the states of post communist Europe as autonomous actors and not as mere recipients of directives and initiatives from the West the book shows how underlying structural conditions allow domestic policy actors to talk the talk of rights protection without walking the walk of implementing minority rights legislation on their territories

Small States and the European Migrant Crisis Tómas Joensen,Ian Taylor,2021-04-26 This edited book examines the experience of small states in Europe during the 2015 2016 migration crisis The contributions highlight the challenges small states and the European Union faced in addressing the massive irregular flow of migrants and refugees into Europe and the Schengen Area Small states adopted a number of coping strategies and proved relatively effective in navigating the storm they faced Externally they pursued strategies of shelter seeking hiding hedging and norm entrepreneurship while domestically they tended to securitize migration and to pursue scapegoating by blaming the EU and other states for the nature and magnitude of the crisis During this crisis management their small administrations proved resilient and flexible in their responses despite suffering from limited resources and being subject to the shifting preferences of stronger actors This book shows that independent of whether we view the migration crisis as a crisis for the European Union or Europe as a whole or how we interpret the intensity and severity of the crisis this was a crisis for small states in Europe The crisis disrupted the liberal and institutionalized order upon which small states in the region had increasingly based their policies and influence for more than 60 years

Roudometof, 2002-12-30 Roudometof provides an in depth analysis of inter ethnic relations in the southern Balkans He examines the evolution of the Macedonian Question and the production of rival national narratives by Greeks Bulgarians and Macedonians He introduces the concept of a national narrative in order to account for the production and proliferation of different forms of collective memory among the rival nation states Roudometof deconstructs the national narratives of the competing sides and shows the limits of these narratives and their biases He also develops an alternative interpretation of Macedonian national formation The contentious issue of Macedonian national minorities in the southern Balkans is examined as well as the issue of the Albanian movements toward self determination and succession in Kosovo and western Macedonia Roudometof argues that the Macedonian minority groups are not as numerous in the neighboring states as it is conventionally assumed With regard to the Albanian national question he provides a review of the post 1945 relations between Albania and Greece the Albanians of Kosovo and the Serbs and the Albanians and Macedonians He argues that the Albanian nationalist movements have grown out of the interaction between Albanians and their neighboring nations and ethnic groups An important resource for scholars students and other researchers involved with the Balkans and ethnic conflict resolution in general
