BETWEEN WAR AND PEACE THE POTSDAM CONFERENCE

BY HERBERT FEIS

The Potsdam Conference, held between July and August 1945, marked the last major meeting of the "Big Three" — the United States, Great Britain, and the Soviet Union — before the end of the war. It was a critical moment in the history of the world, as the three great powers met to discuss the terms of the peace and the future of Europe. The conference was a complex and often contentious affair, with each side pushing its own agenda. The final outcome was a series of declarations and agreements that shaped the post-war world.
