And Gift Theology Contribution Kathryn Tanner:

The Gift of Theology Rosemary P. Carbine, Hilda P. Koster, 2015-12-01 Kathryn Tanner is undoubtedly one of the most important contemporary North American theologians. From landmark studies in systematic and constructive theology to economics, Tanner's work is a contribution of inestimable value, hallmarked by its depth, precision, provocativeness, and grace. Unifying the immense scope of her work is the particular vision of God's self-gift, an internal dynamic communal reality that is expressed outward in acts of love and generosity that are creation, incarnation, and capacious life in the Spirit. This vision as the grounding matrix of Tanner's theology has been extended beyond the disciplinary boundaries of theology in constructive explorations of economics, social and political theory, cultural studies, and ethics. This volume celebrates the vision and breadth of Tanner's unique contribution. Essays by established scholars, colleagues, and former students trace out the key loci and themes from theological method, the Trinity, Christology, creation, to economics, environmental and social ethics, and politics, to generate constructive and ecumenical conversation that presents Tanner as an important contemporary public theologian.

A Politics of Grace Christiane Alpers, 2018-04-19 Christiane Alpers discusses the contribution and role Christian theology plays in developing of the democratic life in post-Christendom societies. She discusses the three major approaches to this debate: public theology, Radical Orthodoxy, and post-liberal Protestantism, in order to illustrate the shared assumption that such an enhancement should be understood in terms of solving existing political problems. The volume builds on and combines public theology's aspiration to craft a non-triumphant political theology fit for a post-Christendom context. Radical Orthodoxy's hesitancy to embrace secularism as neutral centre for present democracies, as well as post-liberalism's Christocentric outlook, Alpers engages with a wide variety of thinkers such as John Milbank, Graham Ward, John Howard Yoder, Kathryn Tanner, and Edward Schillebeeckx to suggest that a political theology in the post-Christendom context could build on the faith that Christ alone has redeemed the whole world.

The Spirit Shaped Church Swarup Bar, 2021-02-23 In The Spirit Shaped Church, Swarup Bar argues that the church is defined by its relationship with others. A relational church depends on the porousness of its borders, which means that while a church has its distinctiveness, it ought to be open to negotiate relational engagements with the world around it. This sort of relationally distinct, permeable church is found to be possible through the leading of the Spirit and the work of Christ. Such engagement is found to be relevant in a plural religious cultural context and in situations of marginalization in India. The Spirit Shaped Church reflects an ongoing commitment on the part of Fortress Press to engage the needs of Christian communities around the world. The book is aimed at teachers, clergy, students, and anyone with an interest in the lived experience of Christians in India.

Christ the Key Kathryn Tanner, 2010 Through the intensely intimate relationship that arises between God and humans in the incarnation of the Word in Christ, God gives us the gift of God's own life. This simple claim provides the basis for Kathryn Tanner's powerful study of the centrality of Jesus Christ for all Christian thought and life. If the divine and the human are united in Christ, then Jesus can be seen as key to the pattern that organizes the whole even while God's ways remain beyond our grasp Drawing on the history of Christian thought to develop an innovative Christ centered theology this book sheds fresh light on major theological issues such as the imago dei the relationship between nature and grace the Trinity's implications for human community and the Spirit's manner of working in human lives Originally delivered as Warfield Lectures at Princeton

Theological Seminary it offers a creative and compelling contribution to contemporary theology Recognizing the Gift Daniel A. Rober, 2016-06-01 Recognizing the Gift puts twentieth century Catholic theological conversations on nature and grace particularly those of Henri de Lubac and Karl Rahner into dialogue with Continental philosophy notably the thought of Jean Luc Marion and Paul Ricoeur It argues that a renewed theology of nature and grace must build on the accomplishments of the recent past while acknowledging that an engagement with the political is unavoidable for theology Ultimately the aim is to revive and broaden discussion of nature and grace by drawing together the insights of contemporary theologians and Continental philosophers Too often these areas of inquiry remain quite separate in part due to differing priorities This work tries to open that conversation in part by critically pointing out in dialogue with Ricoeur the need in Marion's work for an acknowledgment of recognition reciprocity and the political It thus argues for a theology of nature and grace in terms of recognition of the gift drawing out the reciprocal and political nature of gift and givenness in opposition to those including Marion who would seek to avoid politics and reciprocity as a proper avenue of inquiry for theology Disability, Faith, and the Church Courtney Wilder Ph.D., 2016-04-25

Including both theoretical discussions and practical information for congregational use or pastoral use this rich accessible book explores biblical text historical and theological issues of disability and examples of successful ministry by people with disabilities Disability Faith and the Church Inclusion and Accommodation in Contemporary Congregations draws from a range of Christian theologians denominational statements writings of people with disabilities and experiences of successful ministries for people with disabilities to answer the deep need of many Christian communities to live out their calling by welcoming all people By focusing on 20th and 21st century thinkers and political and religious practices the book outlines best practices for congregations and supplies practical information that readers can apply in classroom or church settings The author draws on thinkers from a variety of Christian traditions including Roman Catholicism Episcopalianism Lutheranism and the Reform traditions to provide a theologically robust discussion that remains accessible to churchgoers without formal theological training Emphasis is placed on connecting formal theological reflection and the experiences of ordinary people with disabilities to existing congregational practices and denominational statements thereby enabling readers to decide on the best ways to successfully include people with disabilities into their communities within the rich and diverse Christian theological tradition John Webster's Vision of Moral Agency W. Jeremy Jones, 2025-05-15 This book explores John Webster's contribution to one of the most important and contested topics in Christian theology the relationship between divine and human agency By examining the theme of moral ontology in Webster's constructive dogmatics this work sheds light on his contribution to this crucial subject Jones achieves this through close study of Webster texts ranging from his early middle and late periods He reveals that Webster's moral ontology is not only a major theme in his thought but is among his most significant contributions to contemporary systematic and moral theology As the first book length study of a central theme in Webster's ethics this text will be of interest to Webster scholars and those teaching courses in late modern systematic theology and theological ethics T&T Clark Handbook of Christian Theology and Climate Change Hilda P. Koster, Ernst M. Conradie, 2019-12-12 The T these essays are critically engaged by respondents situated in other geographic regions minority communities non Christian traditions or non theological disciplines Structured in seven main parts the handbook explores 1 the need for collaboration with disciplines outside of Christian theology to address climate change 2 the need to find common moral ground for such collaboration 3 the difficulties posed by collaborating with other Christian traditions from within 4 the questions that emerge from such collaboration for understanding the story of God's work and 5 God's identity and character 6 the implications of such collaboration for ecclesial praxis and 7 concluding reflections examining whether this volume does justice to issues of race gender class other animals religious diversity geographical divides and carbon mitigation This rich ecumenical cross cultural conversation provides a comprehensive and in depth engagement with the theological and moral challenges raised by anthropogenic climate change Thinking Nature and the Nature of Thinking Willemien Otten, 2020-03-17 A fresh and more capacious reading of the Western religious tradition on nature and creation Thinking Nature and the Nature of Thinking puts medieval Irish theologian John Scottus Eriugena 810 877 into conversation with American philosopher Ralph Waldo Emerson 1803 1882 Challenging the biblical stewardship model of nature and histories of nature and religion that pit orthodoxy against the heresy of pantheism Willemien Otten reveals a line of thought that has long made room for nature's agency as the coworker of God Embracing in this more elusive idea of nature in a world beset by environmental crisis she suggests will allow us to see nature not as a victim but as an ally in a common quest for re attunement to the divine Putting its protagonists into further dialogue with such classic authors as Augustine Maximus the Confessor Friedrich Schleiermacher and William James her study deconstructs the idea of pantheism and paves the way for a new natural theology Christ and Trauma Presston McDaniel Hill, 2025-09-22 Christ and Trauma Theology East of Eden explores the intersection of Christian theology and the reality of trauma bringing the crucifixion of Christ into conversation with the lived experiences of trauma survivors This edited volume of essays illuminates how trauma reshapes our understanding of Christology atonement and the Christian community's response to suffering Drawing on interdisciplinary perspectives from theologians psychologists and trauma survivors each essay examines how overwhelming violence impacts individuals and communities and how Christian theology can bear witness to and even participate in the process of healing The contributors engage deeply with the stories of trauma survivors uncovering how trauma theory can challenge and enrich traditional theological concepts like forgiveness redemption and the nature of God From the recognition of Jesus as a victim of abuse to the consideration of trauma informed Christology this collection offers an urgent compassionate and rigorous theological response to the reality of trauma For clergy therapists theologians and survivors alike Christ and Trauma invites readers to reimagine the relationship between faith and suffering in ways that are both theologically robust and deeply relevant to our modern context
