Between Jesus And Paul Studies In The Earliest History Of Christianity:

Between Jesus and Paul Martin Hengel, 2003-03-14 More happened in the period between Jesus and Paul Professor Hengel argues than in the whole of the next seven centuries up to the time when the doctrine of the early church was completed Certainly these decades are crucial to our understanding of the development of earliest Christianity However they are very much a tunnel period and there is little to shed light on it This volume does something to pierce the darkness Among other issues it considers the origins of the Christian mission the role of the Hellenists the reliability of Luke as a geographer when he is dealing with events in Palestine in the Acts of the Apostles and the development of christological belief particularly in Christian worship Those familiar with Professor Hengel's work will know that they will find here a wealth of valuable insight based on painstaking examination of all available sources Paul, Jerusalem and the Judaizers Ian J. Elmer, 2009 Originally presented as the author's thesis doctoral Australian Catholic University 2007 In Praise of Christian Origins Todd Penner, 2004-06-18 Almost all scholars look to Acts 6:1-8:3 as providing the bedrock of early Christian tradition The incident between the Hebrews and the Hellenists are understood to reflect real historical and theological problems in the early Jerusalem community demonstrating the Hellenist role as a historical bridge between Jesus and Paul Penner's study challenges the fundamental assumptions of this approach Penner emphasizes the rhetorical and moral dimensions of ancient historiographical theory especially the centrality of narrative and plot the use of vivid description the application of comparison using various type scenes and the role of speeches in terms of characterization and the presentation of narrative style Todd Penner is the Assistant Professor of Religion at Austin College and the co editor with Caroline Vander Stichele of Contextualizing Acts: Lukan Narrative and Greco-Roman Discourse God and the Faithfulness of Paul Christoph Heilig, J. Thomas Hewitt, Michael F. Bird, 2017-04-01 N T Wright's magnum opus Paul and the Faithfulness of God is a landmark study on the history and thought of the apostle Paul This volume brings together a stellar group of international scholars to critically assess an array of issues in Wright's work Essays in Part I set Wright in the context of other Pauline theologies Part II addresses methodological issues in Wright's approach including critical realism historiography intertextuality and narrative In Part III on context scholars measure Wright's representation of early Judaism Greek philosophy paganism and the Roman Empire Part IV turns to Wright's exegetical decisions regarding law covenant and election the New Perspective justification and redemption Christology Spirit eschatology and ethics Part V at last speaks to the implications of Wright's work for the church's theology sacraments and mission and for global responsibility in a postmodern age The volume includes a critical response from Wright himself Paul's Narrative Thought World Ben Witherington, 1994-01-01 It is a common belief that Paul's letters are not stories but rather theological ideas and practical advice Ben Witherington III thinks otherwise He is convinced that all of Paul's ideas arguments practical advice and social arrangements are ultimately grounded in stories some found in the Hebrew Scriptures and some found in the oral tradition

Christ is God Over All George Carraway, 2013-08-15 This book is written against the background of Christological scholarly thought since the publication of Kyrios Christos by Bousset Carraway argues that the syntax of Romans 9:5 suggests Paul meant to refer to Jesus as God and that his statement is not out of place at the beginning of Romans 9:11 He addresses objections to this conclusion responding to those who claim that a monotheist such as Paul would not refer to Jesus as God and to those who point out that Paul does not elsewhere identify Jesus as God After demonstrating that there is a connection between Romans 9:5 and the remainder of Romans 9:11 the argument continues by tying Paul's monotheistic statements regarding the one God of both Jews and Gentiles in Romans 3 the concept of the one Lord of all in Romans 10:5-13 The book concludes that the redeemer from Zion in 11:25-27 is Christ and is the same as the Christ from Israel in 9:5 The Spirit's Relation to the Risen Lord in Paul Mehrdad Fatehi, 2000 Mehrdad Fatehi studies Paul's letters and shows that the risen Lord is featured in the religious experiences of Paul and the Pauline believers as the present and active lord of the new covenant community These experiences seem to point beyond the notion of a divine agent alongside God to a redefinition of the very concept of God in a way that it would include Christ within itself This is confirmed by the way Paul and the Pauline communities believed themselves to have experienced the risen Lord through God's Spirit In Judaism in general as well as in Paul the Spirit was not regarded as an entity distinct or separable from God but as God himself in his presence and action in and among his people Yet we have clear evidence in Paul's letters that the risen Christ was experienced and conceived of as being present and active through the Spirit bestowing grace and gracious gifts infusing wisdom communicating his will regenerating and transforming his people and dwelling in and among them all through the Spirit in a way which is best understood after the analogy of God's presence and work through the Spirit in Judaism In other words Paul's the Spirit of Christ is best understood after the analogy of the Spirit of God Paul's application of the Spirit language to describe and interpret the Christians experiences of the risen Lord shows that Paul most probably presupposed a redefinition of monotheism in which Christ would be included within the Godhead On the Resurrection, Volume 3 Gary Habermas, 2025-05-15 In the third volume of his magnum opus Gary R Habermas identifies collects and summarizes hundreds of scholarly treatments related to the resurrection On the Resurrection Volume 3 Scholarly Perspectives offers a thorough lay of the land for anyone wanting to pursue an in depth study of Jesus of Nazareth's resurrection Faith as Participation Jeanette Hagen Pifer, 2019-05-29 In recent years three particular debates have risen to the fore of Pauline Studies the question of the centre of Pauline theology how to interpret the mula and the relationship between divine and human agency In the present study Jeanette Hagen Pifer contends that several of the apparent conundrums in recent Pauline scholarship turn out to derive from an inadequate understanding of what Paul means by faith By first exploring the question of what Paul means by faith outside of the classic justification passages in Romans and Galatians she reveals faith as an active and productive mode of human existence Yet this existence is not a form of human self achievement On the contrary faith is precisely the denial of self effort and a dependence upon the prior gracious work of Christ In this way faith is self negating and self involving participation in the Christ event Formation and struggles : the church A.D. 33-450 Veselin Kesich,2007 This study of the formation of the Church begins with the earliest Christian community in Jerusalem led by Jesus disciples and ends with the expansion of Christianity into various regions of the Roman Empire Tracing the growing pains of the Church from its birth through its separation from Judaism to its struggle against Gnostic and pagan influences the author demonstrates how early Christians deepened their loyalty to the apostolic tradition by wrestling with internal and external challenges The author appeals to the general reader as well as the scholar by answering perennially popular questions Did Jesus marry Who was responsible for the crucifixion What is the relationship between philosophy and theology and How were the Scriptures compiled The volume concludes with teachings of the church father Irenaeus of Lyons who presents an image of a Church shaped by ministry canon creed and openness to the world a Church that by method and model offers a solid base for growth in the following centuries
