Prosthesis David Wills, 1995 Prosthesis is an experiment in critical writing that both analyzes and performs certain questions about the body as an artificial construction The book deals with the mechanical e g a mechanical prosthesis like a father's artificial leg in that most humanistic of discourses the artistic in order to demonstrate to what extent a supposedly natural creation relies on artificial devices of various kinds It is distinguished from a thematics of the prosthetic in literature by its complex articulation with accounts of the amputee father's discomfort slipping back and forth between an apparently constative and a more obviously performative mode in and out of fiction and autobiography Cutting across the terrains occupied traditionally by the history of medicine film studies art history philosophy psychoanalysis literary theory and fiction it finds an artistic or cultural pretext for each of its expositions a line from Virgil a painting by Conder a theory by Freud a film by Greenaway a text by Derrida novels by Roussel or Gibson a sixteenth century rhetoric that connects thematically or theoretically with the question of prosthesis Titles V and X of the Water Resources Development Act of 1983 United States. Congress. Senate. Committee on Environment and Public Works. Subcommittee on Water Resources,1984 Celeste and the Beyond Sara Michelle Sheldon,2017-03-29 Something dark is coming For most people it's worlds apart but for thirteen year old Celeste it's only a dream away As things from her sleeping visions start to appear in her waking life she realizes there might be more to them The young girl thought she had seen terrible things before but she quickly finds that reality can be much more frightening than nightmares When she comes face to face with a Demon in a battle of magical wits she sees the reflection of her own darkness and realizes the fight is just beginning
