egovernment services and how can the public sector become an agent of innovation through ICT Galasso, G.; Garbasso, G.; Farina, G.; Osimo, D.; Mureddu, F.; Kalvet, T.; Waller, P., 2016-01-01 The current social economic and technological developments are leading towards the emergence of a new generation of eGovernment Services defined within the scope of the study as Open eGovernment Services OGS Such OGS are open collaborative and digital based services characterised by a deliberate declared and purposeful effort to increase openness and collaboration through technology in order to deliver increased public value These open collaborative and co production features exist in all phases of the design deployment implementation and delivery of the service In this regard the objective of the study was to better understand what OGS are what is their value for society and how the public sector should innovate to foster their use and maximize their impact on society To this aim the study produced the following results 1 a definition and a taxonomy of OGS 2 an assessment of the value of OGS based on a costs benefits analysis aggregated and extrapolated across European countries completed with an assessment of the non monetized benefits 3 the assessment of how public sector innovation happens and how the implementation of OGS can be accelerated by mean of appropriate policy measures The Participant Christopher M. Kelty, 2020-01-21 Participation is everywhere today It has been formalized measured standardized scaled up network enabled and sent around the world Platforms algorithms and software offer to make participation easier but new technologies have had the opposite effect We find ourselves suspicious of how participation extracts our data or monetizes our emotions and the more procedural participation becomes the more it seems to recede from our grasp In this book Christopher M Kelty traces four stories of participation across the twentieth century showing how they are part of a much longer term problem in relation to the individual and collective experience of representative democracy Kelty argues that in the last century or so the power of participation has dwindled over time it has been formatted in ways that cramp and dwarf it even as the drive to participate has spread to nearly every kind of human endeavor all around the world The Participant is a historical ethnography of the concept of participation investigating how the concept has evolved into the form it takes today It is a book that asks Why do we participate And sometimes Why do we refuse The Right to the Smart City Paolo Cardullo, Cesare Di Felicianantonio, Rob Kitchin, 2019-06-07 Globally Smart Cities initiatives are pursued which reproduce the interests of capital and neoliberal government rather than wider public good This book explores smart urbanism and the right to the city examining citizenship social justice commoning civic participation and co creation to imagine a different kind of Smart City Designing Smart and Resilient Cities for a Post-Pandemic World Anthony Larsson, Andreas Hatzigeorgiou, 2022-08-31 Are pandemics the end of cities Or do they present an opportunity for us to reshape cities in ways making us even more innovative successful and sustainable Pandemics such as COVID 19 and comparable disruptions have caused intense debates over the future of cities Through a series of investigative studies Designing Smart and Resilient Cities for a Post Pandemic World Metropandemic Revolution seeks to critically discuss and compare different cases innovations and approaches as to how cities can utilise nascent and future digital technology and or new strategies in order to build stronger resilience to better tackle comparable large scale pandemics and or disruptions in the future The authors identify ten separate societal areas where future digital technology can impact resilience These are discussed in individual chapters Each chapter concludes with a set of proposed action points based on the conclusions of each respective study These serve as solid policy recommendations of what courses of action to take to help increase the resilience in smart cities for each designated area Securing resilience and cohesion between each area will bring about the metropandemic revolution This book features a foreword by Nobel laureate Peter C Doherty and an afterword by Professor of Urban Technologies Carlo Ratti It provides fresh and unique insights on smart cities and futures studies in a pandemic context offers profound reflections on contemporary societal functions and the needs to build resilience and combines lessons learned from historical pandemics with possibilities offered by future technology
