Biology And Violence From Birth To Adulthood:

Biology and Violence Deborah W. Denno, 1990-09-28 The author examines criminal behaviour from birth to adulthood in a sample of nearly 1 000 subjects in order to determine the biological and sociological influences on violence Over 100 predictors of violent behaviour found to be significant in past biological and sociological studies of crime are analysed The results indicate that both biological and environmental factors produce strong and independent effects on both delinquency and adult crime and violence among both males and females Powerful influences on violence include behavioural disorder during youth low school achievement hyperactivity lead poisoning and low levels of parental education The results do not confirm the findings of previous studies that indicate direct relationships between delinquency and early intelligence mental retardation socioeconomic status or early central nervous system dysfunction The author concludes that many of the factors contributing to criminal and violent behaviour can be prevented because they have clear environmental origins that can be eliminated

The SAGE Handbook of Criminological Theory Eugene McLaughlin, Tim Newburn, 2010-07-21 An indispensable international resource The SAGE Handbook of Criminological Theory provides readers with a clear overview of criminological theory enabling them to reflect critically upon the traditional emergent and desirable theoretical positions of the discipline This handbook is essential for libraries and scholars of all levels studying the rapidly developing interdisciplinary field of criminology

The Oxford Handbook of Developmental and Life-course Criminology David P. Farrington, Lila Kazemian, Alexis Russell Piquero, 2019 The Oxford Handbook on Developmental and Life Course Criminology offers the first comprehensive look at these two approaches Edited by noted authorities in the field the Handbook aims to be the most authoritative resource on all issues germane to developmental and life course criminologists from the world's leading scholars

Biosocial Theories of Crime Kevin M. Beaver, 2017-07-05 Biosocial criminology is an emerging perspective that highlights the interdependence between genetic and environmental factors in the etiology of antisocial behaviors However given that biosocial criminology has only recently gained traction among criminologists there has not been any attempt to compile some of the classic articles on this topic Beaver and Walsh's edited volume addresses this gap in the literature by identifying some of the most influential biosocial criminological articles and including them in a single resource The articles covered in this volume examine the connection between genetics and crime evolutionary psychology and crime and neuroscience and crime This volume will be a valuable resource for anyone interested in understanding the causes of crime from a biosocial criminological perspective

The American Court System Marilyn McShane, 2020-10-28 Depending on whom one talks to today's criminal courts are either the savior or the demon of our social order While everyone seems to have an answer about what needs to be done the solutions are neither simple nor within our current allocation of resources Media hype and political posturing emotionally dilute the reality of what motivates crime and what constitutes effective punishment The essays and research in this anthology give the reader a realistic view of complex problems affecting our juvenile and adult courts and consequently the rest of the criminal justice system Topics include sentencing disparity sentencing reform and wrongful convictions Some traditionally controversial issues are covered such as the insanity defense and the death penalty as well as the more recent three strikes and you're out movement and mandatory minimums This series will be of great utility to students scholars and others with interests in the literature of criminal justice and criminology Facilitating Pathways Helmut Remschmidt, Myron Belfer, Paul Goodyer, 2004-08-13 Multidisciplinary and trans cultural This book provides an up to date review of the current state of care treatment and prevention in child and adolescent mental health from multidisciplinary and trans cultural perspectives Systems of care services and interventions in selected parts of the world are described by leading experts with a focus on the current status of services in the respective parts of the world the major needs and deficits in identifying mental health problems in children and adolescents awareness and diagnosis the major needs in treatment care and prevention realistic proposals on how to improve the situation of children and adolescents who suffer from or are at risk for mental health problems In addition the major principles and strategies of treatment and intervention are described on an empirical basis using a selected number of treatment approaches and treatment settings as examples Finally the possibilities strategies and limitations of early detection and prevention are reviewed with the aim of improving the living conditions of children and families in need of mental health support a valuable resource for mental health workers all over the world Crime and Criminal Justice in America Joycelyn Pollock, 2017-02-17 This text offers a concise affordable and reader friendly introduction to the criminal justice system It explores the system in four sections the criminal justice system as social control law enforcement as social control the law as social control and corrections as social control The Oxford Handbook of Juvenile Crime and Juvenile Justice Barry C.
