Book And Apostles Alps Mountaineering Building 1860 1939:

Apostles of the Alps Tait Keller, 2015 Though the Alps may appear to be a peaceful place the famed mountains once provided the backdrop for a political environmental and cultural battle as Germany and Austria struggled to modernize Tait Keller examines the mountains threefold role in transforming the two countries as people sought respite in the mountains transformed and shaped them according to their needs and over time began to view them as national symbols and icons of individualism

Apostles of the Alps Tait Keller, 2015-12-01 Though the Alps may appear to be a peaceful place the famed mountains once provided the backdrop for a political environmental and cultural battle as Germany and Austria struggled to modernize Tait Keller examines the mountains threefold role in transforming the two countries as people sought respite in the mountains transformed and shaped them according to their needs and over time began to view them as national symbols and icons of individualism In the mid nineteenth century the Alps were regarded as a place of solace from industrial development and the stresses of urban life Soon however mountaineers or the so called apostles of the Alps began carving the crags to suit their whims altering the natural landscape with trails and lodges and seeking to modernize and nationalize the high frontier Disagreements over the meaning of modernization opened the mountains to competing agendas and hostile ambitions Keller examines the ways in which these opposing approaches corresponded to the political battles social conflicts culture wars and environmental crusades that shaped modern Germany and Austria placing the Alpine borderlands at the heart of the German question of nationhood

Mountains and Megastructures Martin Beattie, Christos Kakalis, Matthew Ozga-Lawn, 2020-12-21 This book explores the shared qualities of mountains as naturally formed landscapes and of megastructures as manmade landscapes seeking to unravel how each can be understood as an open system of complex network relationships human natural and artificial By looking at mountains and megastructures in an interchangeable way the book negotiates the fixed boundaries of natural and artificial worlds to suggest a more complex relationship between landscape and architecture It suggests an ecological understanding of the interconnectedness of architecture and landscape and an entangled network of relations Urban colonialist fictional rural and historical landscapes are interwoven into this fabric that also involves discontinuities tensions and conflicts as parts of a system that is never linear but rather fluid and organic as driven by human endeavor

Into Russian Nature Alan D. Roe, 2020 National parks are perhaps the most recognized environmental protection institution in the world and have long attracted the interest of historians This is the first academic work on Russian national parks It spans from the years before the Great October Revolution to the present and examines movements to establish national parks from European Russia to Siberia and the Far East It is a story of grandiose visions in which Russian environmentalists conceived of ways to alter the state s relationship to nature and of demoralizing disappointment when the lofty ambitions of different park visionaries fell far short of their hopes

The Emotions of Internationalism Ilaria Scaglia, 2020 By examining a broad range of individuals and institutions engaged in international cooperation in the Alps in the 1920s and 1930s this book explains how internationalists constructed and used emotions to attain their goals It undertakes a journey through the most diverse terrains and venues from the international art exhibitions and congresses organized by the Union Internationale des Associations d Alpinisme also known as UIAA or the International Mountaineering and Climbing Federation to the summer camps and schools run by transnational bodies such as the League for Open Air Education to the international sanatoria for students workers and soldiers healing from tuberculosis in the Swiss village of Leysin Along the way this study encounters a broad spectrum of state and non state actors involved a variety of cross border endeavors from large scale infrastructure projects akin to the tunnel under the Mont Cenis to the League of Nations and its propaganda efforts to the plethora of smaller international organizations emulating the League s work in fields as diverse as leisure health and education Through this metaphorical travel this book thus argues that starting from the nineteenth century and accelerating in the interwar years emotions became a fundamental feature of internationalism shaped its development and constitute an essential dimension of international history to this day Landscapes of the

Schmid,2018-08-23 This anthology surveys the ecological impacts of the First World War Editors Richard P Tucker Tait Keller J R McNeill and Martin Schmidt bring together a list of experienced authors who explore the global interactions of states armies civilians and the environment during the war They show how the First World War ushered in enormous environmental changes including the devastation of rural and urban environments the consumption of strategic natural resources such as metals and petroleum the impact of war on urban industry and the disruption of agricultural landscapes leading to widespread famine Taking a global perspective Environmental Histories of the First World War presents the ecological consequences of the vast destructive power of the new weaponry and the close collaboration between militaries and civilian governments taking place during this time showing how this war set trends for the rest of the century Mountains and the German Mind Sean Moore Ireton, Caroline Schaumann, 2020 The first scholarly English translations of thirteen vital texts that elucidate the central role mountains have played across nearly five centuries of Germanophone cultural history Mountains have occupied a central place in German Swiss and Austrian intellectual culture for centuries This volume offers the first scholarly English translations of thirteen key texts from the Germanophone tradition of engagement with mountains The selected texts span over 450 years ranging from the early modern period to the postmodern era and encompass several discursive modes of the mountain experience including geographical descriptions philosophical meditations aesthetic deliberations and autobiographical climbing narratives Well known figures covered in this translational sourcebook include Conrad Gessner Johann Jakob Scheuchzer G W F Hegel Alexander von Humboldt Georg Simmel Leni Riefenstahl and Reinhold Messner Each text is accompanied by a critical introduction that places the translated text within a broader cultural context The dual translational interpretational approach offered in this volume is intended to stimulate new international and interdisciplinary dialogue on the cultural history of mountains and mountaineering Sean Ireton University of Missouri and Caroline Schaumann Emory University are also the editors of Heights of Reflection Mountains in the German Imagination from the Middle Ages to the Twenty First Century 2012 reader cultural context The dual translational interpretational approach offered in this volume is intended to stimulate new international and interdisciplinary dialogue on the cultural history of mountains and mountaineering Sean Ireton University of Missouri and Caroline Schaumann Emory University are also the editors of Heights of Reflection Mountains in the German Imagination from the Middle Ages to the Twenty First Century 2012 reader cultural context The dual translational interpretational approach offered in this volume is intended to stimulate new international and interdisciplinary dialogue on the cultural history of mountains and mountaineering Sean Ireton University of Missouri and Caroline Schaumann Emory University are also the editors of Heights of Reflection Mountains in the German Imagination from the Middle Ages to the Twenty First Century 2012 reader cultural context The dual translational interpretational approach offered in this volume is intended to stimulate new international and interdisciplinary dialogue on the cultural history of mountains and mountaineering Sean Ireton University of Missouri and Caroline Schaumann Emory University are also the editors of Heights of Reflection Mountains in the German Imagination from the Middle Ages to the Twenty First Century 2012 reader cultural context

Transatlantic Encounters in History of Education Fanny Isensee, Andreas Oberdorf, Daniel Töpper, 2020-07-26 In the last twenty years transnational perspectives have gained momentum in the field of historical educational research Scholars have made substantial efforts to rethink nation based historiographies by reconstructing and reinterpreting the cross border encounters and intertwined processes that have turned the history of education into a transnational enterprise A closer look at specific transnational spaces furthers a better understanding of these processes Against this backdrop the book offers case studies focusing on transatlantic encounters with special regard to the manifold entanglements between Germany and the United States of America that represent one of the most complex dynamic and vivid educational spaces between the eighteenth and twentieth century Drawing on excellent source material each contribution examines interaction processes as the genuine transformative moment within any cross border transfer and investigates exchanges of concepts institutions and materials Under this premise the book draws attention to shifting trajectories in the German American history of education that can be identified by focusing on long lasting transnational entanglements By offering a wide range of research approaches the publication furthermore contributes innovative methodological thoughts to transnational histories of education that go beyond the German American context and will interest students emerging researchers and experts of history of education Anti-Heimat Cinema Ofer

Ashkenazi, 2020-09-08 Anti Heimat Cinema The Jewish Invention of the German Landscape studies an overlooked yet fundamental element of German popular culture in the twentieth century In tracing Jewish filmmakers contemplations of Heimat a provincial German landscape associated with belonging and authenticity it analyzes their distinctive contribution to the German identity discourse between 1918 and 1968 In its emphasis on rootedness and homogeneity Heimat seemed to challenge the validity and significance of Jewish emancipation Several acculturation seeking Jewish artists and intellectuals however endeavored to conceive a notion of Heimat that would rather substantiate their belonging This book considers Jewish filmmakers contribution to this endeavor It shows how they devised the landscapes of the German Homeland as Jews namely as acculturated outsiders within Through appropriation of generic Heimat imagery the films discussed in the book integrate criticism of national chauvinism into German mainstream culture from World War One to the Cold War Consequently these Jewish filmmakers anticipated the anti Heimat film of the ensuing decades and functioned as an uncredited inspiration for the critical New German Cinema
