This handbook examines and critically reflects accessible communication in its interdisciplinary breadth. Current findings, proposed solutions and research desiderata are juxtaposed with reports from practitioners and users who provide insights into how they deal with accessible communication and highlight current and future requirements and problems.

His findings provide evidence that logics of political competition in new German politics have fundamentally changed over the last two decades with respect to five distinct mechanisms: the end of fossil nuclear corporatism, the new importance of trust in lobbying, green path dependence, the emergence of a Green Grand Coalition and intra-party fights over energy politics.
