The Last Century of Sea Power, Volume 2 H. P. Willmott, 2010-03-22 An important contribution a thoughtful account of the years preceding the Second World War and at much greater length of the war itself History In this second volume of his history of naval power in the 20th century H P Willmott follows the fortunes of the established seafaring nations of Europe along with two upstarts the United States and Japan Emerging from World War I in command of the seas Great Britain saw its supremacy weakened through neglect and in the face of more committed rivals Britain's grand Coronation Review of 1937 marked the apotheosis of a sea power slipping into decline Meanwhile Britain's rivals and soon to be enemies were embarking on significant naval building programs that would soon change the nature of war at sea in ways that neither they nor their rivals anticipated By the end of a new world war the United States had taken command of two oceans having placed its industrial might behind technologies that further defined the arena of naval power above and below the waves where stealth and the ability to strike at great distance would soon rewrite the rules of war and of peace This splendid volume further enhances Willmott's stature as the dean of naval historians Praise for The Last Century of Sea Power series The author dean of naval historians provides a sweeping look at and analysis of the transformation of naval power Willmott is fearless in his judgments Seapower H P Willmott is the finest naval historian and among the finest historians of any discipline writing today Bernard D Cole author of The Great Wall at Sea

Royal Naval Biography, Volume 2 Part 2 John Marshall, 1825 John Marshall c 1784 1837 was a naval officer and biographer He first went to sea at the age of nine and by the end of the Napoleonic Wars in 1815 had reached the rank of lieutenant After the war he started to research the lives of contemporary high ranking naval officers some of whose service reached as far back as 1760 These volumes first published between 1823 and 1830 contain the results of this monumental research and demonstrate the new cult of the navy in the early nineteenth century Some of the biographies were contributed by the officers themselves with others containing private or official letters and other records Organised according to seniority in rank these volumes contain a wealth of fascinating information on the careers of naval officers and battles and wars in which they took part Volume 2 Part 2 contains biographies of Post Captains 1802 1806
