The Social Contexts of Disability Ministry Albert A. Herzog, 2017-09-29 This book provides pastors seminarians and interested laity with the background necessary to understand the need for disability ministry and the contexts out of which the church's ministry among people with disabilities must emerge This is true not only for descriptions of ministries over the past sixty years but also the challenges disability poses for biblical studies church history Christian theology and ethics Insights are gained not only from mainstream secular and religious sources but from evangelical and other conservative materials The blending of items from different religious resources reveals just how ubiquitous disability is and the need for disability ministry now and for many years into the future The book's format is such that either it can serve as a text for courses on disability ministry or individual chapters can be employed in various courses on selected topics in biblical studies history theology and ethics Pastors and lay leaders will enjoy the depth of coverage for each topic This is a book about a serious subject for serious readers Its materials are designed to inform stimulate and promote disability ministry as a topic worthy of serious study

Encyclopedia of Special Education Cecil R. Reynolds, Elaine Fletcher-Janzen, 2007-02-26 The Third Edition of the highly acclaimed

Encyclopedia of Special Education has been thoroughly updated to include the latest information about new legislation and guidelines. In addition, this comprehensive resource features school psychology, neuropsychology reviews of new tests and curricula that have been developed since publication of the second edition in 1999 and new biographies of important figures in special education. Unique in focus, the Encyclopedia of Special Education Third Edition addresses issues of importance ranging from theory to practice and is a critical reference for researchers as well as those working in the special education field.

The Praeger International Handbook of Special Education Michael L. Wehmeyer, James R. Patton, 2017-06-15. This handbook provides a concise overview of special education services in countries across the world using the Article on Education in the United Nations Convention on the Rights of Persons with Disabilities as the analytical frame. The Praeger International Handbook of Special Education presents a concise and clear overview of special education services in more than 70 countries across the world using the Article on Education in the United Nations Convention on the Rights of Persons with Disabilities as the analytical frame. Each chapter offers information about the country in general, followed by sections on the public education system, the private education system, the special education system, teacher training requirements, and barriers to and promising trends in inclusive and special education. The volumes and chapters are organized by the United Nations Geoscheme, with Volume 1 including an overview of the volumes and chapters on countries in the Americas, Volume 2 addressing countries from Europe and Africa, and Volume 3 focusing on countries in Asia and Oceania. This is the most complete exploration of the delivery of supports and services to children and youth with disabilities across the globe available. The volumes do not compare among or between countries but rather provide a baseline for understanding current special education practices and their relationship with general education and inclusive practices across the globe. Readers will come away with an in-depth understanding of what is happening with regard to the implementation of special education services and Article 24 of the Convention for the Rights of People with Disabilities. This valuable reference set serves researchers, graduate students, and policymakers in special and general education as well as professionals focused on issues of education worldwide and scholars focused on international special education. As such, this handbook will be an important reference source for university libraries, professional associations, and policy entities.
