A Protestant Church In Communist China Moore:

A Protestant Church in Communist China John Craig William Keating, 2012-02-16 Freedom of religious belief is guaranteed under the constitution of the People's Republic of China but the degree to which this freedom is able to be exercised remains a highly controversial issue. Much scholarly attention has been given to persecuted underground groups such as Falun but one area that remains largely unexplored is the relationship between officially registered churches and the communist government. This study investigates the history of one such official church, Moore Memorial Church in Shanghai. This church was founded by American Methodist missionaries. By the time of the 1949 revolution it was the largest Protestant church in East Asia running seven day a week programs. As a case study of one individual church operating from an historical rather than theological perspective this study examines the experience of people at this church against the backdrop of the turbulent politics of the Mao and Deng eras. It asks and seeks to answer questions such as: were the people at the church pleased to see the foreign missionaries leave? Were people forced to sign the so called Christian manifesto? Once the church doors were closed in 1966 did worshipers go underground? Why was this particular church especially chosen to be the first re-opened in Shanghai in 1979? What explanations are there for its phenomenal growth since then? A considerable proportion of the data for this study is drawn from Chinese language sources including interviews, personal correspondence, statistics, internal church documents and archives many of which have never previously been published or accessed by foreign researchers. The main focus of this study is on the period from 1949 to 1989 a period in which the church experienced many ups and downs, restrictions and limitations. The Mao era in particular remains one of the least understood and seldom written about periods in the history of Christianity in China. This study therefore makes a significant contribution to our evolving understanding of the delicate balancing act between compromise, co-operation and compliance that categorizes church-state relations in modern China.

Pentecostal tradition which is now the dominant mode of twenty first century Chinese Christianity To understand the faith of millions of Chinese Christians today we must understand how this particular form of Chinese community took root and flourished even throughout the wrenching changes and dislocations of the past century The church s history links together key themes in modern Chinese social history such as longstanding cultural exchange between China and the West imperialism and globalization game changing advances in transport and communications technology and the relationship between religious movements and the state in the late Qing circa 1850 1911 Republican 1912 1949 and Communist 1950 present day eras Vivid storytelling highlights shifts and tensions within Chinese society on a human scale How did mounting foreign incursions and domestic crises pave the way for Wei Enbo a rural farmhand to become a wealthy merchant in the early 1900s Why did women in the 1920s and 30s such as an orphaned girl named Yang Zhendao devote themselves so wholeheartedly to a patriarchal religious system What kinds of pressures induced church leaders in a meeting in the 1950s to agree that Comrade Stalin had saved many more people than Jesus This book tells the striking but also familiar tale of the promise and peril attending the collective pursuit of the extraordinary how individuals within the True Jesus Church in China over the past century have sought to muster divine and human resources to transform their world Sinicizing

Christianity ,2017-04-18 Chinese people have been instrumental in indigenizing Christianity Sinizing Christianity examines Christianity s transplantation to and transformation in China by focusing on three key elements Chinese agents of introduction Chinese redefinition of Christianity for the local context and Chinese institutions and practices that emerged and enabled indigenisation As a matter of fact Christianity is not an exception but just one of many foreign ideas and religions which China has absorbed since the formation of the Middle Kingdom Buddhism and Islam are great examples Few scholars of China have analysed and synthesised the process to determine whether there is a pattern to the ways in which Chinese people have redefined foreign imports for local use and what insight Christianity has to offer Contributors are Robert Entenmann Christopher Sneller Yuqin Huang Wai Luen Kwok Thomas Harvey Monica Romano Thomas Coomans Chris White Dennis Ng Ruiwen Chen and Richard Madsen Reaching Chinese Worldwide Wright Doyle,2015-03-25 Reaching

Chinese Worldwide introduces the many ways in which Christians may communicate the truth and love of God in Christ to Chinese around the world Drawing upon four decades of reading and experience the author first lays a biblical foundation for cross cultural witness then briefly explores the various facets of ministry among Chinese Preparation Presence Proclamation Points of Contact Perfection of Believers Participation in the Body of Christ Performance of Good Works and Partnering with God This nearly comprehensive survey contains both fundamental principles and practical suggestions useful for all those wanting to make a Christian impact on China The Oxford Handbook of the Bible in China Khiok-Khng Yeo,2021 The Oxford Handbook of the Bible in China deftly examines the Bible s translation expression interpretation and reception in China Forty eight essays address the translation of the Bible into China s languages and dialects expression of the Bible in

Chinese literary and religious contexts Chinese biblical interpretations and methods of reading and the reception of the Bible in the institutions and arts of China This comprehensive and unique volume presents insightful succinct and provocative evidence about and interpretations of encounters between the Bible and China for centuries past continuing into the present and likely prospects for the future

War and Occupation in China Charles Bright, Joseph W. Ho, 2017-10-23 A fresh eyewitness account of the Japanese invasion of mid China in 1937 1938 these letters by an American missionary in Hangzhou provide a vividly detailed first hand account of the spread of war from Shanghai across the Yangzi valley and the subsequent ordeals of military occupation seen against the better known backdrop of the Nanjing Massacre one man s embedded experience in one major Chinese city of one chaotic year of war Already 25 years in Republican China and fluent in the language when the Japanese arrived the author was well placed as both an observer of and participant in harrowing events the provost of the Hangzhou Christian College and responsible for its campus president of the local Red Cross which organized refugee camps and shelter for those displaced by the looting and raping that ensued and chairman of an International Committee which sought to mediate between Japanese and Chinese forces in an effort to limit destruction and then to negotiate with the occupation regime on a day to day basis The letters written twice weekly describe pitched battles and aerial bombing the fearful conditions of civilian refugees the exigencies of the missionary enterprise and the experiences of foreign neutrals in wartime China as well as the practical dilemmas of collaboration that arose under occupation moving about protecting refugees procuring food tending a dairy herd and ministering to embattled congregations The letters are fully annotated to give readers a fuller perspective on places people and events that surround the eyewitness accounts A substantially researched introductory essay provides necessary historical background and situates the author in a longer missionary career that began in 1911 and ended with wartime internment in 1943

Missionaries to China Leopold Leeb, 2025-10-30 A comprehensive sourcebook for historians and sinologists containing biographies of over 1000 Christian missionaries who served in China before 1955 In this monumental reference work Leopold Leeb provides biographical accounts of over 1000 missionaries in China beginning in the year 635 and continuing through the mid twentieth century Missionaries to China A Historical Dictionary is distinctive for its wide historical range its emphasis on Catholic Protestant and Orthodox missions and its many entries on women and lesser known figures in the missionary history of China Based on sources in several languages including Chinese German French and Latin Leeb s dictionary is a wellspring of historical and cultural information The book s biographical entries are contextualized by an introduction to the history and historiography of China missionaries Enhancing its functionality as a research tool the dictionary provides the English and Chinese names of both the missionary figures and the titles of works that they published The dictionary lists all place names in China in both English and Chinese and it features a bilingual index of names and a topical index Given the book s scope of information and user friendly design Missionaries to China A Historical Dictionary is an essential resource for scholars studying Christianity
