Avermaete, Maristella Casciato, Mirko Zardini, 2014 This book documents two complementary urban realities that have played a fundamental role in the imagination definition and redefinition of the twentieth century modern city Shifting away from an understanding of architecture as the construction of monumental masterpieces the texts collected here assemble the narratives behind the public spaces housing and social facilities in these two cities where modern plans have proven unexpectedly resilient and adaptable over time This perspective is reinforced through visual contributions by Yto Barrada and Takashi Homma two photographers especially invested in capturing everyday urban life In a world marked by decolonization and Cold War politics Casablanca and Chandigarh appear simultaneously as exponents of and countercurrents to modernization and its development perspectives The book s three chapters set the context for reading Casablanca and Chandigarh as the results of nuanced dynamic processes of international exchange driven by the engagement and expertise of a new class of design professionals As a dossier of actors alignments and agendas the book contributes to an alternative historiography of post war urbanism and to recent reflections on the impact of transnational practice P 4 of cover Kalman

Youth Richard A. Reiman, 2010-06-01 When President Franklin Roosevelt formed the National Youth Administration NYA in

June 1935 he declared that it would address the most pressing and immediate needs of American young people In this book Richard A Reiman explores the various and sometimes conflicting ways in which the NYA planners and administrators defined those needs and attempted to answer them As Reiman notes the NYA was established to assist the millions of youth who during the Depression years were out of school out of work and ineligible for the New Deal s own Civilian Conservation Corps Contrary to popular belief he argues New Dealers did not envision the NYA primarily as a junior WPA a trigger for civil rights reform or a springboard for the careers of liberal administrators Rather its designers saw it as a reform agency that would advance and protect democracy by countering totalitarian appeals to young people and by equalizing educational opportunities for rich and poor Woven into the successive drafts establishing the NYA these twin purposes united the programs of planners as disparate as Aubrey W Williams Mary McLeod Bethune John Studebaker Eleanor Roosevelt Charles Taussig and FDR himself Like their separate agendas Reiman shows the planners shared concerns for democratic values were the products of thinking that had arisen during the Progressive Era a time when an awareness of the social effects of child development first occurred During the 1930s fears of fascism and totalitarianism added fuel to these concerns and shaped much of the nature of the NYA s prewar appeal Based on a wide range of sources including NYA related documents at the National Archives and at the Franklin D Roosevelt Library The New Deal and American Youth is the first full length study of this important agency By showing how the NYA served as an instrument for realizing so many New Deal ambitions it offers rich insights into both the NYA and the New Deal
