Lincolnshire Murders Stephen Wade, 2012-02-29 The murder cases in this book are a mixture of classic narratives of jealousy elimination and passion now retold from new perspectives and with more research The author also includes some little known mysteries three unsolved homicides from across the county including the killing of the Barton recluse and the enigmatic death of a young farmer in Gedney in which the dead man's dog appeared in court In this chronicle of violent deaths and court room struggles the reader will find a new slant on some of the principal cases with plenty of social and legal history added to enrich the stories Lincolnshire Murders is a powerful and fascinating reappraisal of some of the most brutal and gruesome killings in the county's history

North London Murders Geoffrey Howse, 2012-02-29 Over the centuries North London has witnessed literally thousands of murders those included within the pages of this book have shocked fascinated and enthralled the public and commentators for generations From Britain's first railway murder a case that turned on the evidence provided by a distinctive style of hat to the appalling story of two Islington woman convicted after disposing of babies in their care these are crimes that both horrified and captivated the public No volume covering the murders of this part of London would be complete without an examination of the Crippen case the name of Frederick Henry Seddon hanged for poisoning Miss Eliza Barrow is now less well known although for several decades his waxwork effigy was a popular exhibit at Madame Tussaud's Chamber of Horrors and his story is an extraordinary one Among other cases included here North London Murders also re-examines the crimes of serial bride killer George Joseph Smith the tragic story of Ruth Ellis and David Blakely and the killing of Joe Orton by Kenneth Halliwell

Strange Things Done Ken S. Coates, William R. Morrison, 2004-04-28 Klondike lore is full of accounts of the exploits of Dangerous Dan McGrew Sergeant Preston of the Mounted and the Mad Trapper of Rat River The stories vary from outright fabrications to northern fantasies and on occasion real life accounts Strange Things Done investigates a series of murders in the pre World War II Yukon exploring the boundaries between myths and historical events The book seeks to understand both the specific events carefully reconstructed from court evidence and police records and the broader social and cultural context within which these violent deaths occurred The murder case studies provide a unique and penetrating perspective on key aspects of Yukon history such as Native newcomer relations mental illness and the folklore about cabin fever the role of immigrants in northern society violence in the gold fields and the role of the police and courts in regulating social behaviour The investigation of these capital cases also illustrates the fear and paranoia which gripped the territory in the aftermath of a murder and the society's insistence on quick and retributive justice when offenders were caught and convicted The Yukon experienced fewer murders than popular literature would suggest and fewer than most would expect given the region's intense and dramatic history but those that did occur illustrate the passions frustrations angers and human frailties that are present in all societies The manner in which the murders occurred and the way in which Yukoners reacted also reveals specific and important aspects of territorial society
