A Philosophy Of Walking:

A Philosophy of Walking Frédéric Gros, 2014-04-08 By walking you escape from the very idea of identity the temptation to be someone to have a name and a history The freedom in walking lies in not being anyone for the walking body has no history it is just an eddy in the stream of immemorial life In A Philosophy of Walking a bestseller in France leading thinker Frédéric Gros charts the many different ways we get from A to B the pilgrimage the promenade the protest march the nature ramble and reveals what they say about us Gros draws attention to other thinkers who also saw walking as something central to their practice On his travels he ponders Thoreau's eager seclusion in Walden Woods the reason Rimbaud walked in a fury while Nerval rambled to cure his melancholy He shows us how Rousseau walked in order to think while Nietzsche wandered the mountainside to write In contrast Kant marched through his hometown every day exactly at the same hour to escape the compulsion of thought Brilliant and erudite A Philosophy of Walking is an entertaining and insightful manifesto for putting one foot in front of the other

The Bookman, 1916 Walking in the Wilderness Michaela Keck, 2006 This book investigates the adaptation and transformation of the European peripatetic tradition in nineteenth century America in particular Henry David Thoreau's literary walks and their visual counterparts in American landscape painting Although Thoreau's perambulations in New World nature have been stated in scholarship no study has offered a comparative analysis nor has the philosophic contemplative aspect of his art of Walking been sufficiently studied The present study puts his walking pattern into a transatlantic as well as interdisciplinary context and illuminates the uniquely American aesthetic philosophic considerations underlying the genre of the walk in American nineteenth century literature and painting

The Psychogeography of Urban Architecture David Prescott-Steed, 2013 This praxis based book explores how an improvisational creative and embodied practice such as the derive works to defamiliarise our experience of the late modern built environment fostering new insight into routinised cultural behaviours In addition to detailing the key contexts of modernity this book includes case studies on the work of Viktor Shklovsky Craig Raine Georges Perec plus rare scholarly attention to the postcards of Jim Henson's Uncle Traveling Matt Tertiary students and early career researchers in the
