The Early Life of Abraham Lincoln

Abraham Lincoln was the second child of Thomas Lincoln and Nancy Hanks Lincoln. He was born in a log house in Kentucky. The Lincoln family was of moderate level of prosperity. They were a respectable family.

When Abraham was a child, the family moved from Kentucky to Perry County, Indiana, in 1817, because of a land dispute in Kentucky. In Indiana, they dwelled on public land that they eventually bought.

When Abraham was 9 years old, his mother passed away due to milk sickness. It was very devastating. He had worked hard at an early age. Then his father married Sarah Bush Johnston, a widow with three children. Sarah was very affectionate and she and Abraham quickly bonded. Sarah encouraged Abraham to read. She led him to read until he began his formal education. Some people witnessed how Abraham walked hundreds of miles to borrow books because books in Indiana were rare at that time.
