Body Politic The Great American Sports Machine:

Body Politic David Shields, 2007-11-01 One of the most respected voices in the sports writing field presents a collection of essays that use sports as the lens through which to view the American character

Body Politic David Shields, 2010-05-11 In Body Politic David Shields looks at contemporary America and its mythology through the lens of professional and college sports. The result is an unusually insightful and provocative book about an empire in denial. Shields relentlessly examines the way we tell our sports stories both fictional and nonfictional, considers the kinds of athletes we choose as heroes and delineates the lessons and values we glean from sports. He explores the intricate and telling relationships between players and coaches, black and white players, immigrant and native players, male and female players, players and broadcasters, players and fans, and players and advertisers. In the process, he shows us the stories we Americans tell ourselves about the kind of people we believe ourselves to be.

Metaphor, Nation and the Holocaust Andreas Musolff, 2010-08-13 The book analyses the conceptual and discursive traditions that underlay the Nazi use of body illness and parasite metaphors in their genocidal anti-Semitic ideology. Part I gives a detailed analysis of this metaphor field in Hitler's Mein Kampf and his public statements from the 1920s to 1945 when it served him and the Nazi propaganda machine to announce, justify and defend his main policy decisions to destroy European Jewry. The book also studies the evidence from secret surveillance reports and diaries that demonstrates the impact of the body parasite metaphor complex on popular opinion in Germany 1933-1945 and in the post-war period. Part II of the book traces the history of this metaphor field back to the Middle Ages and the Renaissance when the concept of the nation-state as a body emerged as a framework for political theory. After its translation into the European vernacular languages, the concept followed different discursive careers related to the divergent political cultures. The reconstruction of its German discourse history, reaching from Luther to the 20th century and still continuing, shows that whilst there was no linear development towards the racist genocidal applications of the metaphors in Nazi ideology, parts of the concept's discourse history served as the basis for Holocaust ideology and propaganda and that its use deserves continued critical attention.

We Average Unbeautiful Watchers Noah Cohan, 2019-07 Sports fandom often more than religious, political or regional affiliation determines how millions of Americans define themselves. In We Average Unbeautiful Watchers, Noah Cohan examines contemporary sports culture to show how mass-mediated athletics are in fact richly textured narrative entertainments rather than merely competitive displays. While it may seem that sports narratives are written by athletes and journalists, Cohan demonstrates that fans are not passive consumers but rather function as readers and writers who appropriate those narratives and generate their own stories in building their sense of identity. Critically reading stories of sports fans' self-definition across genres from the novel and the memoir to the film and the blog post, We Average Unbeautiful Watchers recovers sports games as sites where fan authors theorize interpretation, historicity and narrative itself. Fan stories demonstrate how unscripted sporting entertainments function as identity-building narratives.

which in turn enhances our understanding of the way we incorporate a broad range of texts into our own life stories Building on the work of sports historians theorists of fan behavior and critics of American literature Cohan shows that humanistic methods are urgently needed for developing nuanced critical conversations about athletics Sports take shape as stories and it is scholars in the humanities who can best identify how they do so and why that matters for American culture more broadly

Racing the Sunset Scott Tinley, 2015-04-21 A seventh generation Californian Scott Tinley led the quintessential Golden State dream As he grew from beach rat to lifeguard to a recreational administration major it seemed only natural to him that he would try to parlay the athletic skills gleaned from this idyllic lifestyle into a profession as one of the best triathletes in the world For twenty years his skill tenacity and devil may care attitude guided him along the path But when age took hold of his legs and no amount of training would help his athletic gold rush went bust Cracks in his psyche began to show as if beneath it all like much of California itself his athletic life had been built on a fault Always introspective and inquiring Tinley threw himself headlong into athlete retirement and the larger issues of life transition and change His new journey driven by his quest for personal growth and healing was filled with pain false starts and heartrending intimacies It led him to hundreds of other retired professional athletes who would openly discuss their own triumphs and tragedies With much discipline Tinley completed one of the most thorough athlete research projects ever attempted and befriended such superstars as Bill Walton Eric Heiden Greg LeMond Jerry Sherk Steve Scott and Rick Sutcliffe Along the way he uncovered secrets about himself and the process of change turmoil and final acceptance all shared openly and eloquently in Racing the Sunset This book will do for athletes of every level what Passages did for an entire generation Skyhorse Publishing as well as our Sports Publishing imprint is proud to publish a broad range of books for readers interested in sports books about baseball pro football college football pro and college basketball hockey or soccer we have a book about your sport or your team In addition to books on popular team sports we also publish books for a wide variety of athletes and sports enthusiasts including books on running cycling horseback riding swimming tennis martial arts golf camping hiking aviation boating and so much more While not every title we publish becomes a New York Times bestseller or a national bestseller we are committed to publishing books on subjects that are sometimes overlooked by other publishers and to authors whose work might not otherwise find a home

Reality Hunger David Shields, 2010-02-23 A landmark book brilliant thoughtful The Atlantic and raw and gorgeous LA Times that fast forwards the discussion of the central artistic issues of our time from the bestselling author of The Thing About Life Is That One Day You'll Be Dead Who owns ideas How clear is the distinction between fiction and nonfiction Has the velocity of digital culture rendered traditional modes obsolete Exploring these and related questions Shields orchestrates a chorus of voices past and present to reframe debates about the veracity of memoir and the relevance of the novel He argues that our culture is obsessed with reality precisely because we experience hardly any and urgently calls for new forms that embody and convey the fractured nature of contemporary experience I Think You're Totally Wrong David

Shields, Caleb Powell, 2015-09-01 Caleb Powell always wanted to become an artist but he overcommitted to life his former professor David Shields always wanted to become a human being but he overcommitted to art The stay at home dad three young girls and the workaholic writer eighteen books head to the woods to spend four days together in a cabin arguing life vs art I Think You're Totally Wrong is an impassioned funny probing fiercely inconclusive nearly to the death debate Shields and Powell talk about everything marriage family sports sex happiness drugs death betrayal and of course writers and writing in the name of exploring and debating their central question the lived life versus the examined life There are no teachers or students here no interviewers or interviewees no masters of the universe only a chasm of uncertainty in a dialogue that remains dazzlingly provocative and entertaining from start to finish James Franco's film adaptation of I Think You're Totally Wrong starring the authors premiered in 2015

Fakes David Shields, Matthew Vollmer, 2025-04-25 Contemporary short stories enacting giddy witty revenge on the documents that define and dominate our lives In our bureaucratized culture we're inundated by documents itineraries instruction manuals permit forms primers letters of complaint end of year reports accidentally forwarded email traffic updates ad infinitum David Shields and Matthew Vollmer both writers and professors have gathered forty short fictions that they've found to be seriously hilarious and irresistibly teachable in both writing and literature courses counterfeit texts that capture the barely suppressed frustration and yearning that percolate just below the surface of most official documents The innovative stories collected in Fakes including ones by Ron Carlson a personal ad Amy Hempel a complaint to the parking department Rick Moody Works Cited and Lydia Davis a letter to a funeral parlor trace the increasingly blurry line between fact and fiction and exemplify a crucial form for the twenty first century

Black Planet David Shields, 2025-09 First published in 1994 Black Planet is at first glance a reporting of David Shields's journey following his hometown Seattle Supersonics through the 1994-95 NBA season He went to the team's home games watched their away games on TV listened to interviews and call in shows talked or tried to talk to players coaches and agents attended charity events corresponded with members of the Sonics newsgroup on the early internet He kept a daily journal which then transformed into an intensely personal diary about that season and the team and notions about race and sport in America He started to see a barely concealed view about black men in the NBA and how in a predominately black sport white fans including especially himself think about and talk about black athletes and black bodies And Shields was writing more like a twenty first century sportswriter and critiquing local sports media in an era when it was rarely if ever questioned Critically acclaimed and highly controversial Black Planet was finalist for the National Book Critics Circle Award and PEN USA Award and it was named on the Top Ten Nonfiction Books of 1999 by Esquire Newsday and LA Weekly

The Thing About Life is That One Day You'll Be Dead David Shields, 2008-02-05 NATIONAL BESTSELLER Weaving together personal anecdote biological fact philosophical doubt cultural criticism and the wisdom of an eclectic range of writers and thinkers a book that expertly renders both a hilarious family portrait and a truly resonant meditation on mortality Shields is a sharp eyed self deprecating at times hilarious writer The Wall Street Journal Mesmerized and somewhat unnerved by his 97 year old father's vitality and optimism David Shields undertakes an original investigation of our flesh and blood existence our mortal being The Thing About Life provokes us to contemplate the brevity and radiance of our own sojourn on earth and challenges us to rearrange our thinking in crucial and unexpected ways
