Animation China Aesthetics Routledge Contemporary:

Animation in China Sean Macdonald, 2015-11-06 By the turn of the 21st century animation production has grown to thousands of hours a year in the People's Republic of China PRC Despite this and unlike American blockbuster productions and the diverse genres of Japanese anime much animation from the PRC remains relatively unknown This book is an historical and theoretical study of animation in the PRC Although the Wan Brothers produced the first feature length animated film in 1941 the industry as we know it today truly began in the 1950s at the Shanghai Animation Film Studio SAFS which remained the sole animation studio until the 1980s Considering animation in China as a convergence of the institutions of education fine arts literature popular culture and film the book takes comparative approaches that link SAFS animation to contemporary cultural production including American and Japanese animation Pop Art and mass media theory Through readings of classic films such as Princess Iron Fan Uproar in Heaven Princess Peacock and Nezha Conquers the Dragon King this study represents a revisionist history of animation in the PRC as a form of postmodernism with Chinese characteristics As a theoretical exploration of animation in the People's Republic of China this book will appeal greatly to students and scholars of animation film studies Chinese studies cultural studies political and cultural theory

Chinese Animated Film and Ideology Olga Bobrowska, 2023-12-11 This book presents a contextualized overview of the history of Chinese animated film pointing out the most influential self definitions of Chinese culture employed in animation art of Mao Zedong's rule 1949-1976 but largely focusing on the representation strategies created in the times of reforms and opening up under Deng Xiaoping 1978-1989-1992 Deeply grounded in cultural studies the book employs an interdisciplinary approach interlacing the reflection with the perspectives of political science film studies and film festival studies It focuses on phenomena anchored to the paradigms of nationalization reform and internationalization among them nuanced understanding of the minzu national category including the classic style of Chinese animation invention of wash and ink painting animation shuimo donghua renewal of film theory and animated film language soft power and cultural diplomacy and regular access and co creation of the international industry festival distribution This book will be of great interest to those in the fields of animation studies film studies political science Chinese area studies and Chinese philology

Chinese Animated Film and Ideology, 1940s-1970s Olga Bobrowska, 2022-10-24 This book examines animated propaganda produced in mainland China from the 1940s to the 1970s The analyses of four puppet films demonstrate how animation and Maoist doctrine became tightly but dynamically entangled The book firstly contextualizes the production conditions and ideological contents of The Emperor's Dream 1947 the first puppet film made at the Northeast Film Studio in Changchun It then examines the artistic intellectual and ideological backbone of the puppet film Wanderings of Sanmao 1958 The book presents the means and methods applied in puppet animation filmmaking that complied with the ideological principles established by the radical supporters of Mao Zedong in the first half of the 1960s discussing Rooster Crows at Midnight 1964 The final chapter discusses The Little 8th Route Army 1973 created by You Lei in the midst of the Cultural Revolution This book will be of great interest to those in the fields of animation studies film studies political science Chinese area studies and Chinese philology

The New Generation in Chinese Animation Shaopeng Chen, 2021-09-23 In 1995 Chinese animated filmmaking ceased to be a state run enterprise and was plunged into the free market Using key animated films as his case studies Shaopeng Chen examines new generation Chinese animation in its aesthetic and industrial contexts He argues that unlike its predecessors this new generation does not have a distinctive national identity but represents an important stage of diversity and exploration in the history of Chinese animation Chen identifies distinct characteristics of new generation filmmaking including an orientation towards young audiences and the recurring figure of the immortal monkey like Sun Wukong He explores how films such as Lotus Lantern Baolian Deng 1999 responded to competition from American imports such as The Lion King 1994 retaining Chinese iconography while at the same time adopting Hollywood aesthetics and techniques Addressing the series Boonie Bears Xiong Chumo 2014 5 Chen focuses on the films adaptation from the original TV series and how the films were promoted across generations and by means of both online and offline channels Discussing the series Kuiba Kui Ba 2011 2013 2014 Chen examines Vasoon Animation Studio's ambitious attempt to create the first Chinese style high fantasy fictional universe and considers why the first film was a critical success but a failure at the box office He also explores the relationship between Japanese anime and new generation Chinese animation Finally Chen considers how word of mouth social media engagement lay behind the success of Monkey King Hero is Back 2015

The Chinese Cinema Book Song Hwee Lim, Julian Ward, 2020-04-30 This revised and updated new edition provides a comprehensive introduction to the history of cinema in mainland China Hong Kong and Taiwan as well as to diasporic and transnational Chinese film making from the beginnings of cinema to the present day Chapters by leading international scholars are grouped in thematic sections addressing key historical periods film movements genres stars and auteurs and the industrial and technological contexts of cinema in Greater China

Chinese Film Jason McGrath, 2023-01-31 A tour de force chronicling the development of realism in Chinese cinema The history of Chinese cinema is as long and complicated as the tumultuous history of China itself Be it the silent the Communist or the contemporary each Chinese cinematic era has necessitated its own form in conversation with broader trends in politics and culture In Chinese Film Jason McGrath tells this fascinating story by tracing the varied claims to cinematic realism made by Chinese filmmakers officials critics and scholars Understanding realism as a historical dynamic that is both enabled and mitigated by aesthetic conventions of the day he analyzes it across six different types of claims ontological perceptual fictional social prescriptive and apophatic Through this method McGrath makes major claims not just about Chinese cinema but also about realism as an aesthetic form that negotiates between cultural conventions and the ever evolving real He comes to envision it as more than just a cinematic question showing how the struggle for realism is central to the Chinese struggle for modernity itself

The Crafty Animator Caroline Ruddell, Paul Ward, 2019-04-03 This collection is a study of the value of craft as it can be understood within the study and practice of animation The book reconsiders the position of craft which is often understood as inferior to art with a particular focus on questions of labour in animation production and gendered practices The notion of craft has been widely investigated in a number of areas including art design and textiles but despite the fact that a wide range of animators use craft based techniques the value of craft has not been interrogated in this context until now Seeking to address such a gap in the literature this collection considers the concept of craft through a range of varying case studies Chapters include studies on experimental animation computer animation trauma and memory children's animation and silhouette animation among others The Crafty Animator also goes some way to exploring the relationship craft has with the digital in the context of animation production Through these varied discussions this book problematizes simplistic notions about the value of certain methods and techniques working to create a dialogue between craft and animation
