McGirr, 2015-06-02 In the early 1960s American conservatives seemed to have fallen on hard times McCarthyism was on the run and movements on the political left were grabbing headlines The media lampooned John Birchers s accusations that Dwight Eisenhower was a communist puppet Mainstream America snickered at warnings by California Congressman James B Utt that barefooted Africans were training in Georgia to help the United Nations take over the country Yet in Utt s home district of Orange County thousands of middle class suburbanites proceeded to organize a powerful conservative movement that would land Ronald Reagan in the White House and redefine the spectrum of acceptable politics into the next century Suburban Warriors introduces us to these people women hosting coffee klatches for Barry Goldwater in their tract houses members of anticommunist reading groups organizing against sex education pro life Democrats gradually drawn into conservative circles and new arrivals finding work in defense companies and a sense of community in Orange County s mushrooming evangelical churches We learn what motivated them and how they interpreted their political activity Lisa McGirr shows that their movement was not one of marginal people suffering from status anxiety but rather one formed by successful entrepreneurial types with modern lifestyles and bright futures She describes how these suburban pioneers created new political and social philosophies anchored in a fusion of Christian fundamentalism xenophobic nationalism and western libertarianism While introducing these rank and file activists McGirr chronicles Orange County s rise from nut country to political vanguard Through this history she traces the evolution of the New Right from a virulent anticommunist anti establishment fringe to a broad national movement nourished by evangelical Protestantism Her original contribution to the social history of politics broadens and often upsets our understanding of the deep and tenacious roots of popular conservatism in America American Poultry Advocate ,1912 Shire Horse Stud Book Shire Horse Society, 1919

The Human Tradition in the Civil War and Reconstruction Steven E. Woodworth, 2000-02-01 The Human Tradition in the Civil War and Reconstruction brings alive this decisive period in American history by taking the reader beyond the realm of generals presidents and the other towering figures of history and introducing fourteen individuals who represent the variety of people who made up the great mass of the nation in the middle of the nineteenth century Readers will meet women like LaSalle Pickett whose activities not only reveal a good deal about marriage and gender during the period but also offer a fascinating look at the postwar southern propaganda effort on behalf of the Lost Cause A chronicle of the home front is offered in the piece on journalist poet and novelist Lucy Virginia French The abolition movement particularly as an outgrowth of religious conviction is covered in the sketch of Charles Grandison Finney The chapters on Robert Smalls and Willis

Augustus Hodges illustrate the roles played by African Americans during the war and Reconstruction Francis Nicholls s virulent southernism is counterpointed in the sketch of Charles Henry Foster whose unionism in a southern state highlights the complexity of choices and motivations of Americans in the Civil War era Readers will also meet people like Winfield Scott Hancock and Richard S Ewell whose experiences illustrate the challenges confronted by mid ranking military commanders The naval war often a neglected aspect of the era is the focus of the piece on Raphael Semmes and a chapter on common soldier Peter Welsh reflects the important part played by immigrants in this conflict An excellent resource for courses on this tumultuous era The Human Tradition in the Civil War and Reconstruction examines a side of this historical period rarely seen in standard texts Castle's Guide to the Fruit, Flower, Vegetable and Allied Trades ,1963 Artificial Life IV Rodney Allen Brooks,Pattie Maes,1994 This book brings together contributions to the Fourth Artificial Life Workshop held at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology in the summer of 1994
