the backdrop of the rapidly developing influence of British culture on Russian society Architects park designers and gardeners from England and Scotland were to be found in every part of Russia by the end of the eighteenth and the beginning of the nineteenth century helping to establish a particular form of design whose cultural impact was made all the more dramatic by its adoption and development by native Russian architects and designers This book ravishly illustrated with views of the palaces and gardens of imperial Russia many now destroyed places Russian architecture and garden design of the neo classical period within its European context for the first time and explores the hitherto neglected connections between British and Russian architecture of the late eighteenth and early nineteenth centuries It offers a fascinating and original account of Russian culture in this period Subject Catalog, 1979 Library of Congress,1979
