lessons can we draw from one form of violence that might be relevant to other forms Can legal responses to violence provide accountability but avoid escalating vengeance If so what kinds of legal institutions and practices can make a difference What kinds risk failure Breaking the Cycles of Hatred represents a unique blend of political and legal theory one that focuses on the double edged role of memory in fueling cycles of hatred and maintaining justice and personal integrity Its centerpiece comprises three penetrating essays by Minow She argues that innovative legal institutions and practices such as truth commissions and civil damage actions against groups that sponsor hate often work better than more conventional criminal proceedings and sanctions Minow also calls for more sustained attention to the underlying dynamics of violence the connections between intergroup and intrafamily violence and the wide range of possible responses to violence beyond criminalization A vibrant set of freestanding responses from experts in political theory psychology history and law examines past and potential avenues for breaking cycles of violence and for deepening our capacity to avoid becoming what we hate The topics include hate crimes and hate crimes legislation child sexual abuse and the statute of limitations and the American kidnapping and internment of Japanese Latin Americans during World War II Commissioned by Nancy Rosenblum the essays are by Ross E Cheit Marc Galanter Fredrick C Harris Judith Lewis Herman Carey Jaros Frederick M Lawrence Austin Sarat Ayelet Shachar Eric K Yamamoto and Iris Marion Young
