Apoptosis And Inflammation Progress In Inflammation Research:

Apoptosis and Inflammation James Winkler, 1999-07-01 Apoptosis is a form of cell death that occurs in a controlled manner and is generally noninflammatory in nature Apoptosis or programmed cell death implies a cell death that is part of a normal physiological process of pruning of unneeded cells However many disease conditions utilize apoptosis for pathological ends resulting in inappropriate cell death and tissue destruction This book starts with an introduction that reviews the general characteristics of apoptosis its regulation and its role in physiology and disease Next the book focuses on three areas as they relate to inflammatory cells and diseases The first area consists of chapters on signals for apoptosis important to inflammatory cells namely growth factors and arachidonic acid metabolism The next area that the book focuses on are effects at the cellular level on cell survival versus cell death and signals critical for cell function in both normal and disease states These topics are covered in chapters on lymphocytes granulocytes chondrocytes and keratinocytes The last area that the book focuses on are events at the level of tissue and disease looking at the evidence for altered apoptosis and or apoptotic processes in immune and inflammatory diseases These topics are covered in chapters on rheumatoid arthritis osteoarthritis lupus psoriasis and renal disease Together these chapters will provide the reader with the latest insight in the role of apoptosis in inflammatory cells and diseases This book starts with an introduction that reviews the general characteristics of apoptosis its regulation and its role in physiology and disease Next the book focuses on three areas as they relate to inflammatory cells and diseases The first area consists of chapters on signals for apoptosis important to inflammatory cells namely growth factors and arachidonic acid metabolism The next area that the book focuses on are effects at the cellular level on cell survival versus cell death and signals critical for cell function in both normal and disease states These topics are covered in chapters on lymphocytes granulocytes chondrocytes and keratinocytes The last area that the book focuses on are events at the level of tissue and disease looking at the evidence for altered apoptosis and or apoptotic processes in immune and inflammatory diseases These topics are covered in chapters on rheumatoid arthritis osteoarthritis lupus psoriasis and renal disease Together these chapters will provide the reader with the latest insight in the role of apoptosis in inflammatory cells and diseases

Progress in Inflammation Research James A. Pitzer, 2005 The process of inflammation which causes the swelling and redness around a wound is a vital part of the body's system for fighting off infections When the body is hurt the immune system produces chemical signals telling cells to multiply without dying allowing skin to close over a gash for example Other chemicals spur the growth of new blood vessels to feed the recovering tissue Scientists have linked inflammation to cancer and recently to heart disease in several ways Doctors suspect that long term inflammation or infection is involved in up to 20 per cent of cancers including those of the oesophagus colon skin stomach liver bladder breast and some kinds of lymphoma C reactive protein CRP is one of the acute phase proteins that increase during systemic inflammation It's been suggested that testing CRP levels in the blood may be a new way to assess cardiovascular disease risk A high sensitivity assay for CRP test hs CRP is now widely available This new book presents recent leading edge research from around the world Apoptosis and Inflammation James D. Winkler,1999

Microarrays in Inflammation Andreas Bosio,Bernhard Gerstmayer,2009-05-14 This book summarizes the most advanced technical aspects covering all steps for a thorough application of microarrays to inflammation topics from sample generation to data analysis In addition selected examples of successful applications of microarrays in major fields of inflammation research are presented The book will help a researcher or clinician to plan perform and analyze or to critically review microarray experiments related to inflammation research Autoantibodies Research Progress Quentin P. Dubois,2008

Walsh,2008-11-14 Angiogenesis is an essential component of inflammation and its resolution Traditionally mechanisms of angiogenesis in inflammation were inferred from tumour angiogenesis However research in recent years has extracted the similarities and dissimilarities between these processes This volume shows how the lessons learned from tumour biology have been applied to inflammation It develops current knowledge on molecular and cellular mechanisms as they relate to inflammation including acute and chronic inflammation and neurogenic inflammation It explains the roles of the multiple cellular components of inflammation such as fibroblasts dendritic cells and lymphocytes The book shows how this knowledge is being used in the discovery of novel therapeutics It brings together experts in each of these fields to link the molecular and cellular processes in angiogenesis to those of inflammation and human disease The Resolution of Inflammation Adriano Rossi,Deborah A. Sawatzky,2008-03-17 This book provides readers with an up to date and comprehensive view on the resolution of inflammation and on new developments in this area including pro resolution mediators apoptosis macrophage clearance of apoptotic cells possible novel drug developments Hard but Hopeful: the Clinical and Translational Research Progress in Pancreatic Cancer Taiping Zhang,Min Li,Bei Sun,Kuirong Jiang,2022-11-04
