Directions: During battle of the books students will create teams and decide on a team name. Each team will be responsible for reading all the books on the list. After students have had several weeks to read, students will begin battling. The teacher will ask each team a question about a book on the list. For each correct answer the team will receive a point. Each team will design a team "speaker" to say the answer for the group. After a couple of weeks of battling, the team with the least amount of points will begin getting eliminated from the competition.
