literature and archaeology 1880 1930 reveals how British writers and artists across the long turn of the twentieth century engaged with archaeological discourse its artefacts landscapes bodies and methods uncovering the materials of the past to envision radical possibilities for the present and future This project traces how archaeology shaped major late Victorian and modern discussions informing debates over shifting gender roles facilitating the development of queer iconography and the recovery of silenced or neglected histories inspiring artefactual forgery and transforming modern conceptions of authenticity and helping writers and artists historicise the traumas of the First World War Ultimately unearthing archaeology at the centre of these major discourses this book simultaneously positions literary and artistic engagements with the archaeological imagination as forms of archaeological knowledge in themselves

Mary Butts Joel Hawkes, 2024-04-04 A scholarly and experimental collection that offers fresh insight with a feminist focus into the often overlooked modernist writer Mary Butts and the contested processes of recovering such an author Scholars instrumental in the recovery of Mary Butts along with newer writers publishers printers and artists enter into conversation exploring the work of the British author whose body of work plays between high modernist forms and more popular genres writing that can be described as occult Gothic queer proto environmental and feminist Taking its cue from Butts s experimental rhythmic writing and the transnational artistic communities in which Butts moved in the 1920s the collection is a non linear exchange rather than a collection of isolated arguments a conversation constructed from classical academic chapters knight s move non academic reflections and short responses to these This conversation lies at the intersection of feminism and reconstruction Chapters range between Butts s writing techniques and forms her position in the modernist canon contested sites of feminism in her work critical reception of that work queer and post critical readings and the success of and the need for a feminist recovery of the author The collection aims to be a feminist engagement while asking questions of what this might look like why it is needed and how such an approach offers fresh insight into an erudite playful difficult contradictory and experimental body of work Ultimately the collection asks how should we reconstruct the author and her work for the contemporary reader

Spectrality in Modernist Fiction Stephen Ross, 2023 Spectrality in Modernist Fiction argues that key modernist writers chiefly Conrad Forster Butts and Bowen use spectral rhetoric to tackle problems of sex and sexuality revolution imperialism capitalism and desire all through complicated ethical engagements These engagements invariably come packaged in and are shaped by the language of spectrality In its capacity to articulate a particular sort of relationship between the past the present and the future the spectral concerns the basic question of how to proceed how to live with maybe even address ethical indeterminacy Whether their spectral rhetoric traces the logics of capitalist possession Conrad queer friendship and paganized Christianity Forster regressive politics haunted by historical traumas Butts or the devious passages of perverse desire Bowen these writers locate something like hope in their ghosts The ethical and political impasses they chart through their spectral rhetoric are not final but temporary and the drive to overcome them constitutes a tensile optimism
