Assessing Older Persons Measures Meaning And Practical Applications:

Assessing Older Persons Robert L. Kane, Rosalie A. Kane, 2000 This is a unique text and reference on the multidimensional assessment of older persons. It combines detailed accounts of measures for a wide range of functions with discussions of their applications in the care of older persons. The effort throughout is to combine information on specific measures with insight into how and when each measure should be used. Assessing Older Persons Marilyn Eells, 2004

The Oxford Handbook of Clinical Geropsychology Nancy A. Pachana, Ken Laidlaw, 2014-11-07 Throughout the world the population of older adults continues to grow. The rise in geriatric populations has seen an increase in research on clinical diagnostic assessment and treatment issues aimed at this population. Clinical geropsychologists have increased their interest both in providing mental health services as well as developing approaches to improve quality of life for all older adults. The Oxford Handbook of Clinical Geropsychology is a landmark publication in this field providing broad and authoritative coverage of the research and practice issues in clinical geropsychology today as well as innovations expanding the field's horizons. Comprising chapters from the foremost scholars in clinical geropsychology from around the world, the handbook captures the global proliferation of activity in this field. In addition to core sections on topics such as sources of psychological distress, assessment, diagnosis, and intervention, the handbook includes valuable chapters devoted to methodological issues such as longitudinal studies and meta-analyses in the field as well as new and emerging issues such as technological innovations and social media use in older populations. Each chapter offers a review of the most pertinent international literature, outlining current issues as well as important cultural implications and key practice issues where relevant and identifying possibilities for future research and policy applications. The book is essential to all psychology researchers, practitioners, educators, and students with an interest in the mental health of older adults. In addition, health professionals including psychiatrists, social workers, mental health nurses, and trainee geriatric mental health workers will find this an invaluable resource. Older adults comprise a growing percentage of the population worldwide. Clinical psychologists with an interest in older populations have increased the amount of research and applied knowledge about effectively improving mental health later in life, and this book captures that information on an international level. The book addresses how to diagnose, assess, and treat mental illness in older persons as well as ways to improve quality of life in all older persons. It has a great breadth of coverage of the area, including chapters spanning how research is conducted to how new technologies such as virtual reality and social media are used with older people to improve mental health. The book would appeal to all psychology researchers, practitioners, educators, and students with an interest in the mental health of older adults. It would also appeal to other health professionals including psychiatrists, social workers, and mental health nurses who work with older people. It is a valuable resource for trainee geriatric mental health workers because it highlights key readings and important practice implications in the field. Assessments, Treatments and Modeling in Aging and Neurological Disease Colin

R. Martin, Victor R Preedy, Rajkumar Rajendram, 2021-06-01 Assessments Treatments and Modeling in Aging and Neurological Disease The Neuroscience of Aging is a comprehensive reference on the diagnosis and management of neurological aging and associated disorders The book discusses the mechanisms underlying neurological aging and provides readers with a detailed introduction to the aging of neural connections and complexities in biological circuitries as well as the interactions between genetics epigenetics and other micro environmental processes It also examines pharmacological and non pharmacological interventions of age related conditions that affect the brain including Alzheimer s stroke and multiple sclerosis Provides the most comprehensive coverage of the broad range of topics related to the neuroscience of aging Features sections on diagnosis and biomarkers of neurological aging Alzheimer s and stroke Contains an abstract key facts a mini dictionary of terms and summary points in each chapter Focuses on neurological diseases and conditions linked to aging environmental factors and clinical recommendations Includes more than 500 illustrations and tables

a model of care that co ordinates medical social and community services and offer insight into the effective use of on going assessment Performance Indicators in Social Care for Older People David Challis,Paul Clarkson,2017-03-02 The growing focus on performance review and monitoring means that awareness and use of performance indicators has increased throughout a number of public services Set within a national context this book reviews the historical development and measurement issues of performance indicators within social care and the public sector for older people It then provides an approach to effective local performance measurement in services for older people and an organizing framework within which organizations can arrange their performance appraisal for older people s services The development of performance review in social care of older people is examined as is the process of developing local performance measures and engaging staff in enquiry and quality management The book also reviews the process of developing performance indicators and their utilization at an agency level Performance Indicators in Social Care for Older People will be of particular interest in the UK for local service providers who are developing approaches for local performance review It will also be of interest internationally especially in countries where services for older people are currently developing in a similar direction

Aging: Oxford Bibliographies Online Research Guide Nancy R. Hooyman,2010-05 This ebook is a selective guide designed to help scholars and students of social work find reliable sources of information by directing them to the best available scholarly materials in whatever form or format they appear from books chapters and journal articles to online archives electronic data sets and blogs Written by a leading international authority on the subject the ebook provides bibliographic information supported by direct recommendations about which sources to consult and editorial commentary to make it clear how the cited sources are interrelated related A reader will discover for instance the most reliable introductions and overviews to the topic and the most important publications on various areas of scholarly interest within this topic In social work as in other disciplines researchers at all levels are drowning in potentially useful scholarly information and this guide has been created as a tool for cutting through that material to find the exact source you need This ebook is a static version of an article from Oxford Bibliographies Online Social Work a dynamic continuously updated online resource designed to provide authoritative guidance through scholarship and other materials relevant to the study and practice of social work Oxford Bibliographies Online covers most subject disciplines within the social science and humanities for more information visit www aboutobo com Older People and Their Caregivers Across the Spectrum of Care Judith Howe,2015-12-22 Examine recently developed concepts and strategies to help social workers and caregivers improve the quality of care for senior citizens Older People and Their Caregivers Across the Spectrum of Care focuses on two major aspects of elderly care assessment and caregiving This book examines assessment techniques and models used by social workers and other health care professionals to determine the type and extent of care necessary to meet the needs of the elderly In addition it voices recent concerns about the use of standardized models for all older adults This book also addresses the burdens and benefits of being a caregiver to older relatives or friends and mentions several programs made available for caregivers through social services. Older People and Their Caregivers Across the Spectrum of Care reviews assessment techniques and practice models that address issues such as abuse and HIV/AIDS care. This book also provides information about currently overlooked issues that will increasingly affect assessment and intervention, including diversity in cultural or religious beliefs and sexual orientation. This book is also unique in its focus on those unsung unpaid heroes: relatives and friends who assist elderly companions with their financial, social, and physical daily needs. With Older People and Their Caregivers Across the Spectrum of Care, you will find vital information on two elderly victims' services: one involving social services and the other involving criminal action; the challenges of assessing older adults with HIV/AIDS; the pros and cons of long-distance caregiving; a life-course assessment/intervention model used at military colleges to help officers prepare proactively for parent care; the Caregivers and Professionals Partnership (CAPP), which employs innovative outreach strategies to family caregivers of adults; the Northport VA Friendly Companion Program, which enhances opportunities for interpersonal interaction; African American caregivers and their experiences with African American elders; Social workers and caregivers will find the information in this book vital in their work. Generously enhanced with tables, charts, case studies, references, and personal vignettes, Older People and Their Caregivers Across the Spectrum of Care will help you improve quality of life for the older adults of today and tomorrow.

Supporting People with Dementia at Home David Challis, Caroline Sutcliffe, Jane Hughes, Richard von Abendorff, Pamela Brown, John Chesterman, 2016-04-01. Supporting People with Dementia at Home details a groundbreaking study of an intensive care management scheme designed for older people with dementia that are at risk of entry into residential care. The authors use a quasi-experimental approach to compare how the individuals on the mental health team in one community were matched to a similar community without the service. They analyze the evidence focusing on the eventual placement of the individual, suffering the quality of care they receive, and also the needs of their carers. This book offers valuable evidence about the factors which can maximize the independence and well-being of older people with dementia from the perspective of older people and their carers. For those who commission services, it is highly relevant to service models for the National Dementia Strategy in England.

Embracing the Beat of Appearance: An Emotional Symphony within Assessing Older Persons Measures Meaning And Practical Applications

In a world taken by screens and the ceaseless chatter of instant transmission, the melodic splendor and emotional symphony produced by the published term often fade in to the backdrop, eclipsed by the persistent sound and interruptions that permeate our lives. Nevertheless, situated within the pages of Assessing Older Persons Measures Meaning And Practical Applications a charming literary treasure filled with organic emotions, lies an immersive symphony waiting to be embraced. Constructed by an outstanding musician of language, this interesting masterpiece conducts readers on a mental trip, skillfully unraveling the hidden melodies and profound affect resonating within each cautiously constructed phrase. Within the depths of the emotional examination, we will examine the book is central harmonies, analyze their enthralling publishing model, and submit ourselves to the profound resonance that echoes in the depths of readers souls.
