A Paradox Of Victory Cosatu And The Democratic Transformation In South Africa:

A Paradox of Victory Sakhela Buhlungu, 2010 Sakhela Buhlungu pulls no punches His bleak prognosis is sure to fire debate and controversy a must read for anyone interested in the fate of the South African labour movement Michael Burawoy Professor of Sociology at the University of California Berkeley

Party Politics and Economic Reform in Africa's Democracies M. Anne Pitcher, 2012-05-07 Argues that the interaction of formal institutions and the quality of democracy explain patterns of private sector development across Africa

Neoliberalism and Resistance in South Africa Shaukat Ansari, 2021-05-03 This book critically examines the persistence of market orthodoxy in post apartheid South Africa and the civil society resistance such policies have generated over a twenty five year period Each chapter unpacks the key political coalitions and economic dynamics domestic as well as global that have sustained neoliberalism in the country since the transition to liberal democracy in 1994 Chapter 1 analyzes the political economy of segregation and apartheid as well as the factors that drove the democratic reform and the African National Congress ANC subsequent abandonment of redistribution in favor of neoliberal policies Further chapters explore the causes and consequences of South Africa s integration into the global financial markets the limitations of the post apartheid social welfare program the massive labour strikes and protests that have erupted throughout the country and the role of the IMF and World Bank in policymaking The final chapters also examine the political and economic barriers thwarting the emergence of a viable post apartheid developmental state the implications of monopoly capital and foreign investment for democracy and development and the phenomenon of state capture during the Jacob Zuma Presidency

COSATU'S Contested Legacy Sakhela Buhlungu, Malehoko Tshoaedi, 2013-04-15 COSATU s Contested Legacy provides a fresh and up to date analysis of trade unionism in contemporary South Africa by focusing on the Congress of South African Trade Unions the largest and most powerful federation Drawing on quantitative data from four time series surveys of union members over a period of sixteen years the authors present rigorous and authoritative analyses that shed light on the dilemmas and opportunities facing trade unionism today The volume shows how various sections of the trade union movement grapple with these dilemmas and contest with one another to chart a future trajectory for trade unionism

The Zuma Years Richard Calland, 2013-08-16 The face of power in South Africa is rapidly changing for better and for worse The years since Thabo Mbeki was swept aside by Jacob Zuma s coalition of the wounded have been especially tumultuous with the rise and fall of populist politicians such as Julius Malema the terrible events at Marikana and the embarrassing Guptagate scandal What lies behind these developments How does the Zuma presidency exercise its power Who makes our foreign policy What goes on in cabinet meetings What is the state of play in the Alliance is the SACP really more powerful than before And as the landscape shifts what are the opposition s prospects In The Zuma Years Richard Calland attempts to answer these questions and more by holding up a mirror to the new establishment by exploring how people such as Malema Chief Justice Mogoeng Mogoeng and DA parliamentary leader

Lindiwe Mazibuko have risen so fast by examining key drivers of transformation in South Africa such as the professions and the universities and by training a spotlight on the toxic mix of money and politics The Zuma Years is a fly on the wall insider s approach to the people who control the power that affects us all It takes you along the corridors of government and corporate power mixing solid research with vivid anecdote and interviews with key players The result is an accessible yet authoritative account of who runs South Africa and how today

Challenging Inequality in South Africa Michelle Williams,Vishwas Satgar,2021-05-13 In Challenging Inequality in South Africa Transitional Compasses leading scholars of South Africa explore creative possibilities to challenge structures of economic social and political power that produce inequality Through concrete empirical examples of movements workers struggles initiatives and politics in challenging inequality the authors illustrate transitional compasses that go beyond protest politics to a generative politics a politics of building the alternatives in the interstitial spaces of capitalism The conceptual framing is oriented around the way in which power is produced and reproduced through intricate relationships between hegemonic projects and everyday life While power underpins all social relations it is often taken for granted as it is frequently hidden behind other social relations Resistance to power emerges through engendering counter hegemonic projects that are intertwined with alternative everyday practices The authors highlight sources of alternative forms of power found in resistance to dominant forms of power through concrete experiences to create transformative alternatives To concretize the conceptual framing the authors look at the emancipatory possibilities of a universal basic income the use of law in tackling inequality in health and education creative initiatives to establish a people centred food system through food sovereignty new forms of organizing led by precarious workers democratic possibilities in local state delivery and attempts at reconceptualizing the good life by looking at issues of happiness and ecosocialism The chapters in this book were originally published in the journal Globalizations

Inclusive Dualism Nicoli Nattrass,Jeremy Seekings,2019-05-29 W Arthur Lewis the founding father of development economics proposed a dualist model of economic development in which surplus predominantly under employed labour shifted from lower to higher productivity work In practice historically this meant that labour was initially drawn out of subsistence agriculture into low wage labour intensive manufacturing including in clothing production before shifting into higher wage work This development strategy has become unfashionable The International Labour Organisation ILO worries that low wage labour intensive industry promises little more than an impoverishing race to the bottom Inclusive Dualism Labour intensive Development Decent Work and Surplus Labour in Southern Africa argues that decent work fundamentalism that is the promotion of higher wages and labour productivity at the cost of lower wage job destruction is a utopian vision with potentially dystopic consequences for countries with high open unemployment many of which are in Southern Africa Using the South African clothing industry as a case study Inclusive Dualism argues that decent work fundamentalism ignores the inherently differentiated character of industry resulting in the unnecessary destruction of labour intensive jobs and the bifurcation of society into highly paid high productivity insiders and low paid or unemployed outsiders It demonstrates the broader relevance of the South Africa case examining the growth in surplus labour across Africa It shows that low and high productivity firms can co exist and challenges the notion that a race to the bottom is inevitable Inclusive Dualism instead favours multi pronged development strategies that prioritise labour intensive job creation as well as facilitating productivity growth elsewhere without destroying jobs

Global Perspectives on Workers' and Labour Organizations

Maurizio Atzeni, Immanuel Ness, 2018-04-10 This book broadens the research on the underworld of precarious and not represented workers through a selection of original case studies from across the globe written by leading experts The book unveils the working conditions affecting this vast labour force that is so important to capital accumulation in the global age It also helps us to understand the forms and processes of organization that these groups of workers almost on an everyday basis put in place to improve their working conditions and lived experiences

A Love Letter to the Many

Vishwas Satgar, 2024-07-01 South Africa was the hope of the world It had an impressive and rich tradition of left politics At the heart of post apartheid democracy making was a revolutionary nationalist ANC the oldest Communist Party in Africa the SACP and one of the most militant labour union federations in the world COSATU Yet South Africa is at a crossroads and many are deeply concerned about its future This book explains through a political economy ecology analysis why and how the degeneration of national liberation politics has happened while making praxis centered arguments for a new transformative left politics

Employer and Worker Collective Action Andrew G. Lawrence, 2014-08-11 This book compares sources of worker and employer power in Germany South Africa and the United States in order to identify the sources of comparative US decline in union power and to more precisely analyze the nature of labor movement power It finds that this power is not confined to allied parties union confederations or strikes but rather consists of the capacity to autonomously translate power from one context to the next By combining their product labor market and labor law advantages through their dominant employers associations leading firms are able to impose constraints on labor s free collective bargaining regionally and nationally defeating employer interests that are more amenable to labor in the process Through an examination of these patterns of interest organization the book shows however that initial employer advantages prove to be contingent and unstable and that employers are forced to cede to more far reaching demands of increasingly organized workers
